HAVANA, Nov. 3.—A gallant attempt in an unusual accident today resulted in the deaths of two United States diplomats and the wife of one of them, who lost their lives in the storm-tossed waters of Matanzas Bay.

The victims were John Tillotson Wainwright, prominent clubman of New York, Philadelphia and Washington and United States Consul at Matanzas, and Mr. and Mrs. William R. Jackson of Madison, Illinois. Jackson was American Consul at Havana.

The victims were members of a party which had gone to Matanzas on a pleasure trip. They were standing on the edge of a cliff overlooking the bay when a sudden

Sunday morning's heavy frost brought the leaves down in clouds, and most of the trees now present a denuded appearance.

Game is quite plentiful this year, local hunters report. Many fine bags of game were brought home and Sunday was a day of feasting in many New Castle homes.

Politics was the principal item of discussion in the Sabbath Schools Sunday morning, when members were urged to get out and vote tomorrow.

We see at a glance:

That more than one motorist driving into Sharon was mystified somewhat by the candlelights burning in a roadside cemetery outside of that city, Saturday evening. Over nearly every grave was a light. A custom perhaps.

That at least two were seen getting their watches by the newly installed tower clock on the First Christian church last night. It was illuminated for the first time.

That practically all of the congregations of the city heard citizenship sermons on Sunday. They were given at the request of the Federal Council of Churches.

That a traffic light at the Butler avenue-East Washington street corner may be useful on Sundays and holidays. Traffic at the intersection became tied up on several occasions yesterday.

Sunday morning was the coldest of the fall according to the official temperature, the mercury hitting 21 degrees. An extremely heavy frost was noted.

FIREMEN BATTLE
SPREAD OF FLAMES

(International News Service)
KANSAS CITY, Nov. 3.—A spark from the exhaust of an automobile today ignited an oil tank of the White Eagle Oil corporation here causing an explosion and fire which is raging uncontrolled in the heart of Kansas City's oil and gasoline storage district.

A 20,000 gallon tank of oil blew up, shooting flames more than 300 feet high, and rivulets of burning oil flowed over the area, spreading the blaze.

Ten large storage tanks containing 250,000 gallons of oil and gasoline are in the center of the blazing area.

The intense heat of the flaming oil forced firemen to retreat and concentrate their efforts on keeping the fire from spreading. Several firemen were burned slightly by the heat.

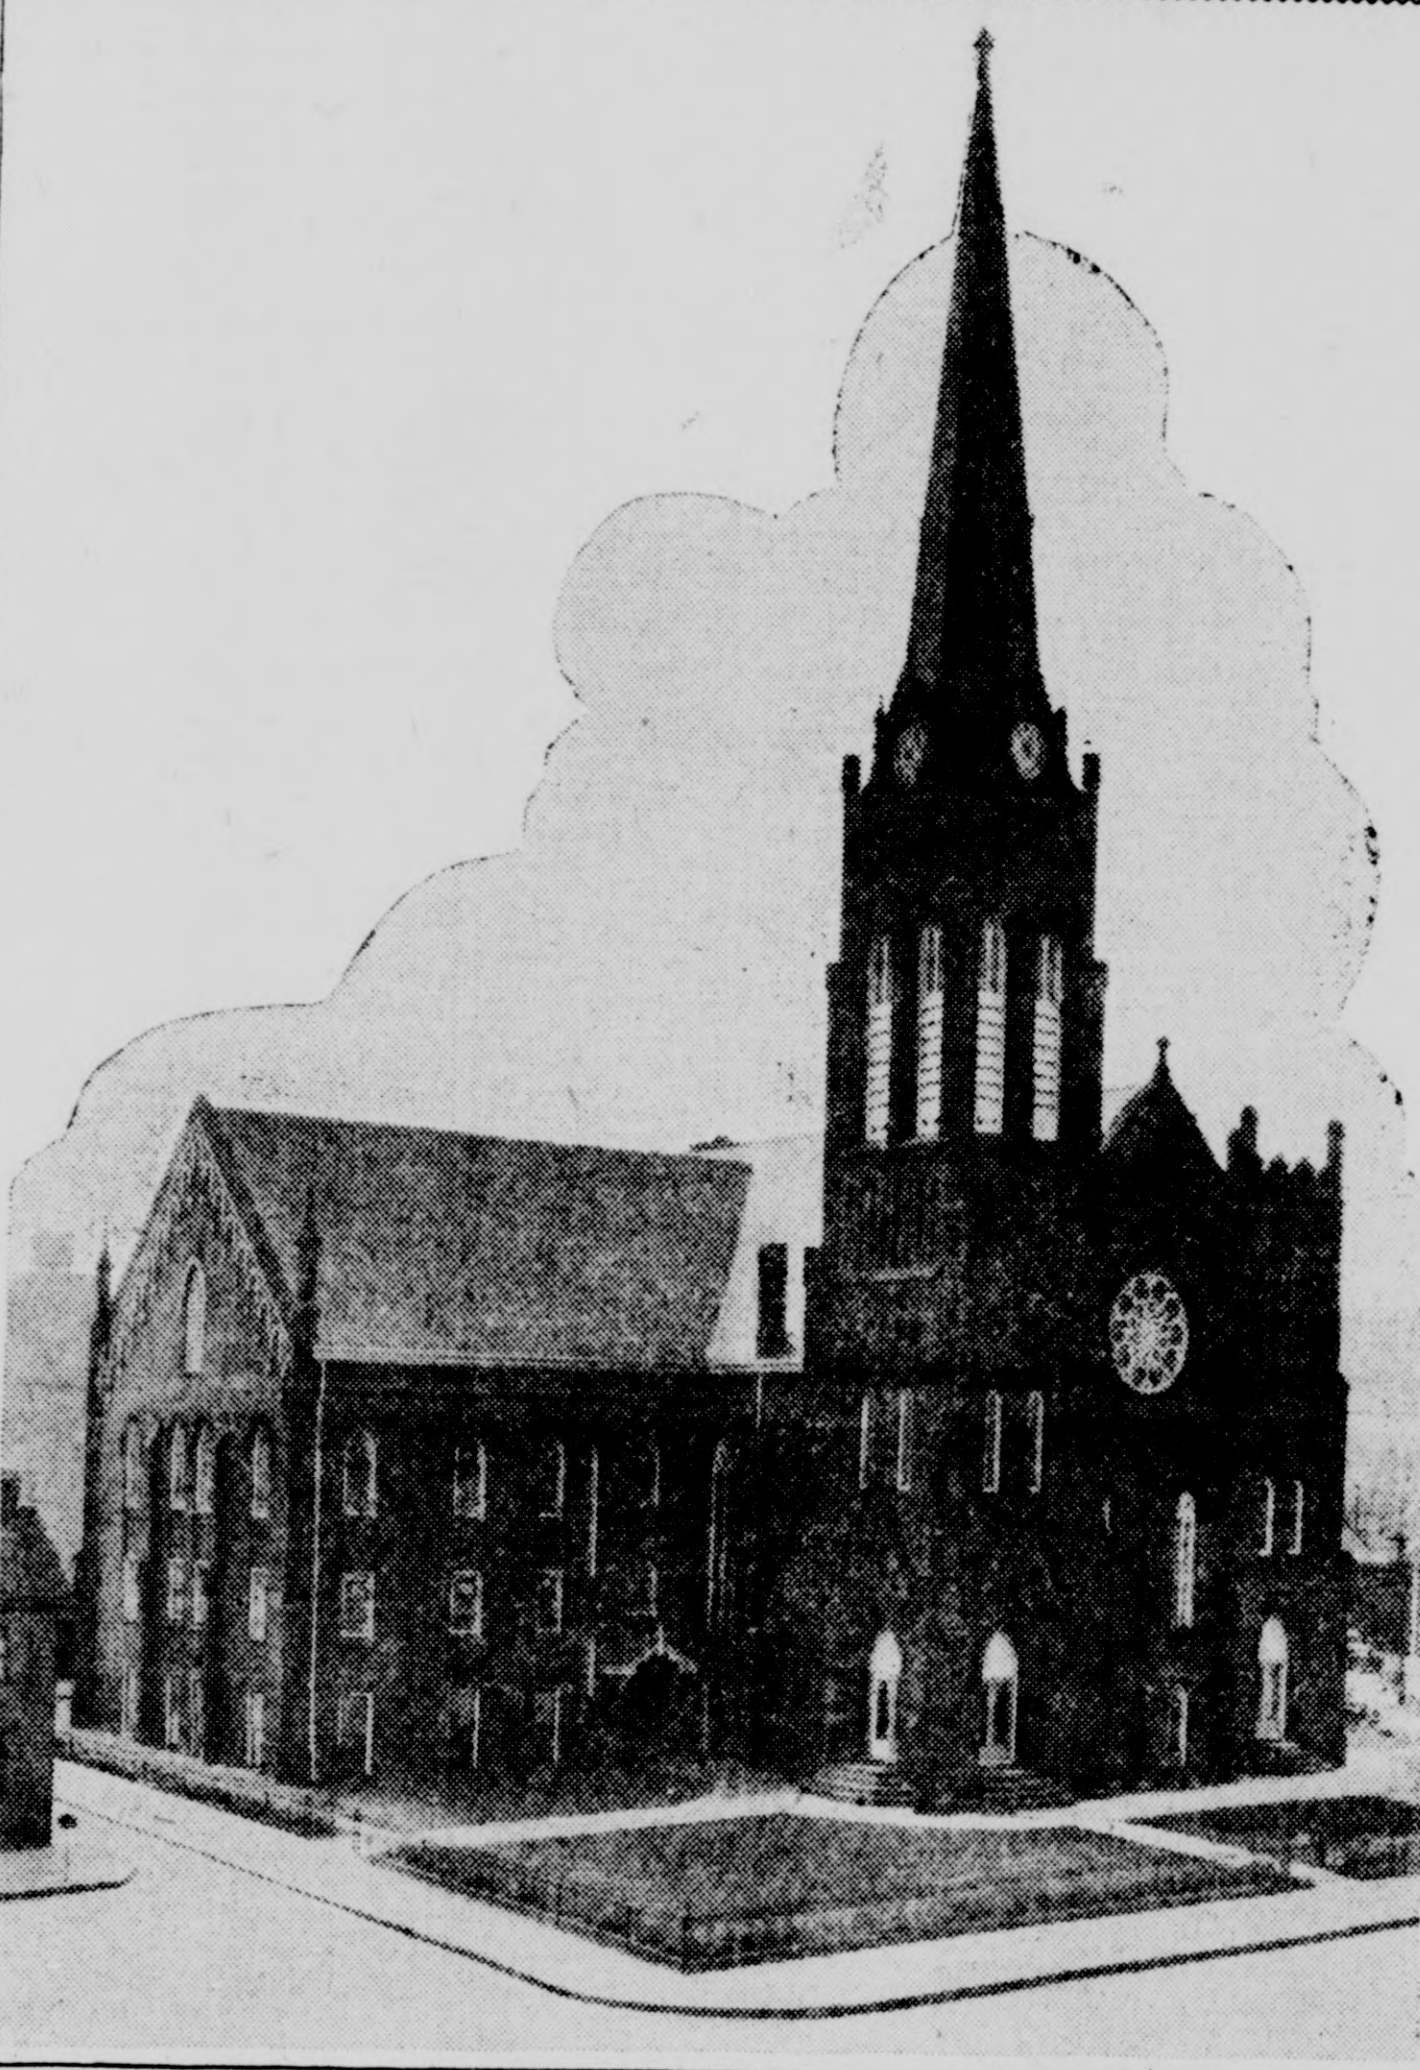

Joe Myers, a mechanic, was blown sixty feet by the force of the explosion. He was taken to a hospital in a critical condition.

A Pisco passenger train, enroute from Dallas to Kansas City, passing the tank when it exploded had the windows of three cars blown out. No one was injured on the train.

Residents of the district fled their homes fearing a disastrous explosion should the other tanks become ignited.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Towering over the public square for the past 66 years the First Christian Church has stood, weathering the storms of nature and today, after watching the crowds go by and the hamlet grow to a city, the venerable old building with its time darkened bricks has undergone a change to its interior which brings it up to date in every respect.

As one enters the front doors of the newly remodeled building, a vestibule of beauty is seen, the mot-ted gray walls with their corner pieces painted to resemble graying stone, resembles the entrance to old cathedrals; a few steps lead up to the entrance of the main auditorium and these are richly covered in a thick, bright, red carpet, which adds warmth to the glow of reverent atmosphere. It has been called to the attention of the Merchants of New Castle, they report, that a rumor is being circulated among the railroad employees that they favor abolishment of passes to their dependents.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—Attracting the political interest of the nation while shattering party lines within the state, the sensational gubernatorial campaign between Gifford Pinchot, dry Republican, and John M. Hemphill, wet Democrat, closed today with both candidates predicting victory at the polls tomorrow.

Their extraordinary campaign, climaxed time and again by the bolting of influential partisans to the opposite political camp, has won the intense interest of national leaders, because of its possible bearing on the 1932 presidential race. The re-election of the Progressive-Republican Pinchot or the choice of Hemphill as Pennsylvania's first Democratic governor in 36 years, would plunge either man directly into the presidential spotlight.

Now the shooting all is over and the war is nearly done, and the candidates are through with all their battling and their fun. For the morning sees the voters with their ballots in their hands, say what man shall be elected and their answer has to stand. All the meetings and the arguments, are finished once again, and tomorrow sees the answer from the women and the men. Every state has had its quota, every town has seen the fight, and the arguments have risen in the day and in the night. But the battle now is over, let the people have their say, don't forget to vote tomorrow, weather's fifty eight today.

TO ELECTION BOARDS

Because of the intense interest in the election returns of Tuesday, November 4th, the New Castle News is preparing to give the people of New Castle and Lawrence County, the quickest and most complete service possible.

To do this will require the co-operation of the various election boards. For the convenience of the voters, election boards are asked to call The News, Telephone 4000 when they have completed their returns, and to be sure that the return sheet is posted outside the polling place when the return is finally recorded.

Because the race for governor is one attracting the attention of the entire state, it is also asked that the vote for this office be counted first and the returns called in to The News.

By doing this, the election boards will render a service to the people.

The customers bought.

Six years later Mr. and Mrs. Hoop became dissatisfied and decided they wanted to pull up stakes, get their money back and leave. So they notified the land company of their intention. But the company refused to repurchase the land. Its argument was that the purchasers had no valid reason for being dissatisfied, whereupon Mr. and Mrs. Hoop filed suit.

strong gust of wind threw Mrs. Jackson off her balance.

She fell into the sea, and in an instant her husband had jumped in after her. Seeing the couple struggling against heavy seas whipped up by a sudden squall, Wainwright plunged in after them.

One Man Rescued

Cydney Guest, a vice-consul attached to the Havana consulate, who was also among the party, followed Wainwright. All were caught in a strong undertow, but Guest, who was watching the gallant but ill-fated attempt from the cliff, obtained a long pole which she held down to the water's edge.

Guest, less spent than the others, managed to seize the pole and was hauled to safety. The others, however, were swept out by the undertow and lost to sight.

Hunt For Bodies

An immediate search was started for the bodies, which had not been recovered up to a late hour this morning.

First reports reaching the United States embassy here said the three lost their lives when a small boat capsized, but later information divulged the unusual cause of the tragedy.

Jackson was a native of Madison, Illinois. He was 36 years old.

Wainwright, the son of the late John Tillotson Wainwright for many years a well known New York clubman, was 33 years old. His mother is Mrs. Clement Biddle of Philadelphia, the former Miss Anne Rutherford Peabody. He was a descendant of General Stirling, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

Wainwright was a graduate of Princeton and Cambridge Universities, and a member of several clubs. He married Miss Alice M. Cutts, of Philadelphia, daughter of Colonel Richard M. Cutts, United States Marine Corps, last June.

DAVID P. NEEDLER DIES AT EDENBURG

He was known to practically everybody in Lawrence county. Despite his advanced age he continued active up until about three weeks ago when jaundice developed. Prior to that he never missed a meeting of the Grand Army of the Republic, nor any of the military celebrations held in New Castle. When transportation was not available he walked, and was active as a man 30 years his junior. For the past 50 years he had been a member of the Knights of Pythias.

As a young man he enlisted in Battery B, or as it was known, Cooper's Battery of the 100th regiment. His two brothers also enlisted, one in the infantry, another in the cavalry. With his battery Mr. Needler served throughout the duration of the war and in the heavy fighting at Gettysburg he was engaged the entire time.

Following the Civil war he was engaged as a boatman on the old canal and for many years followed this picturesque life. Later he was a painter and worked at this trade until he retired some years ago. His death removes one of the picturesque figures among the ex-service men of the county. His cheerful disposition will be missed at ex-service gatherings, but his memory will be green.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Margaret J. Needler; a son, H. L. Needler of Poland, O., and a daughter, Mrs. Lydia Ammon, who resides in Edenburg.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon, November 5, from the Edenburg M. E. church at 3 o'clock.

in which she plans to summarize her stand and arguments.

She will be followed by Lewis, nominee of the Democratic party. The fight approached its finale it became more apparent that the wet and dry question is the fundamental issue of the campaign.

Both candidates refused to take advantage of a respite offered by the Sabbath and carried their arguments to the Negro voters on Chicago's south side.

Taking up the wet and dry issue Mrs. McCormick in yesterday's address asserted that a wet Democrat, sent to senate, would meet with strong opposition from other Democratic senators of the south.

Lewis Is On Fence

The congress woman asserted that the referendum offers the only solution as to method of approach. She reiterated her pledge to abide by such a referendum, stating that if the eighteenth amendment is to be repealed it can only be done through submission by the senate to the states.

As the contest neared its close reports from several sections of the state indicated that Lewis was attracting an unexpected sentiment in his favor.

Col. Lewis, in the past few weeks, has emphasized his plan in favor of local option with federal and state supervision to protect such communities as prefer to be really dry. Col. Lewis has supported a plan for modification of the Volstead law.

STAR LORE

THE GIANT STAR MIRA By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

One of the most interesting objects in the heavens is the long period variable star Mira (meaning the wonderful), otherwise known as Omicron Ceti. This star in Cetus (whale) is well above the horizon in November, not far from the second hour of right ascension, and near 5 degrees south declination. Cetus is south of constellation Aries 20 degrees. Its period is 331 days. When brightest it is of magnitude 1.7, and when faintest, 9.6. It becomes visible about every 11 months. Mira is 250 million miles in diameter—a whale of a star! It was discovered by an amateur astronomer, Fabricius, in the year 1596.

at the landing outside the auditorium, a beautiful painting has been placed with just the right electric lighting to bring out the beauty of the subject. It is "The Presence" and shows the interior of a church edifice with a glowing light showing down on the sanctuary and "Jesus" standing at the back of the pews, just entering. The beauty of the picture is best brought out by a long study and many were the persons Sunday who paused either upon entrance or exit from the church and gazed with adoration upon this beautiful painting.

Auditorium Beautiful The aisles of the church and the front part are softly carpeted in the same red carpet that is used at the entrance and as one enters the auditorium the beauty of the simplicity of the room strikes one most forcibly.

Oak, which looks as if it had been darkened by the ages, is the wood used throughout, the window settings, the pews, the pulpit furnishings and the organ all being finished the same. The walls are all done in the soft mottled gray, that is so restful a color, with the corners and about the long stained glass windows, painted in imitation of rough stone.

The lighting fixtures are most modern and beautiful, being in the form of hanging lanterns with soft amber shades shedding a glow of warmth and ample lighting over the entire room.

In addition to the clock in the spire of the building there have been four electric clocks installed throughout the building, which not only are useful, but are objects of beauty as well.

The ceiling of the main auditorium has had a relief work outline in shades of brown put up and if one turns his eyes heavenward he sees the beauty of this part of the building.

The baptistry of the building has also been remodeled, making it one of the most up to date rooms for the nature of the building. In the rites of the "Dedication of Christ" this remodeling, refurbishing and redecoration of the First Christian church brings it into the class of the finest churches of the city and the congregation can well feel proud of their place of worship, since the changes have been made during the summer months.

the House of Representatives of the General Assembly.

For governor the Republican candidate, Gifford Pinchot is opposed by John M. Hemphill who is the candidate of the Democratic and Liberal parties. This seems to be the only contest, the other Republican candidates for state wide office being conceded winners. They include James J. Davis for United States senator, General Edward C. Shannon for lieutenant governor, Phillip H. Dewey for secretary of internal affairs, Judge George W. Maxey for supreme court, Judges William B. Linn and James B. Drew for superior court.

Dr. J. Howard Swick is a candidate for congress from this district, and Bart Richards and William McElwae candidates for the general assembly. The Democratic ticket, aside from the governor includes Sedgwick Kistler candidate for the United States senate, Judge Henry C. Niles for the supreme court, Judges Aaron E. Reiber and George F. Douglas for the superior court, Guy K. Bard for lieutenant governor and Lucy D. Winston for secretary of internal affairs. Ira M. Ramsey is the Democratic nominee for general assembly in the first district, William McElwae getting the Democratic nomination also in the second district. Dr. J. Howard Swick also has the Democratic nomination for congress.

Vote to the Light

The vote in New Castle and Lawrence county will probably be unusually light. The registration in the city amounts to little over 7600 which probably means a vote of approximately 7000. The rural vote is expected to be heavier than this. Perhaps 10,000. Total of 17,000 would be 10,000 less than the total cast in the presidential election of 1928.

There are thirty four precincts in New Castle which should mean that the vote will be proportionately light enough to permit the boards to get their totals fairly early in the evening. It is requested that the totals be telephoned to The News as soon as possible, and that the vote for governor be tabulated first. This to aid the newspaper in giving the people returns.

In addition to the officers who are to be elected, the voters of New Castle will decide whether or not voting machines shall be used in the city. On the bottom of the ballot the question appears in this language: "Shall Voting Machines Be Used in the City of New Castle?" Two squares are provided for voting, one for "Yes" and one for "No". The polls open at seven o'clock a. m. Eastern Standard time and close at seven o'clock p. m. Eastern standard time.

Mayor Gillespie, Councilmen Treiser and Reeves today were named by council, in meeting at the city building to interview C. C. Coulthard, superintendent P-O railway company regarding a possible continuation of operation of cars between Highland Avenue and Seventh ward. The proposal was sponsored by Reeves.

Reeves asked colleagues if it would not be possible for the P-O to operate cars from Highland Ave. to the Seventh Ward without a transfer in Mill street. Councilman Genkinger expressed the belief it would be a good idea if the company did so.

"Such a plan has always been considered dangerous," said Mayor Gillespie.

"The plan would not give as good service as now to the North Hill remarked Councilman Burns.

He explained that street cars in South Mill street and Mahoning Avenue are delayed at railroad crossings.

Mill men miss their cars on account of the transfer," said Reeves.

Councilman Genkinger presented a motion which will result in Mayor Gillespie, Councilman Reeves and Treiser ascertaining the view held by the local superintendent of the Penn-Ohio railway.

MRS. RACHEL MILLER HONORED BY FRIENDS

MARGARET CAHILL ENGAGEMENT NEWS

Friends and relatives gathered at the home of R. Edgar Miller on the Mt. Jackson road to help celebrate the 75th birthday of his mother, Mrs. Rachel Miller of Cumberland avenue, this city. Games and social conversation were indulged in until a late hour, when refreshments of ice cream, cake, coffee and candy were served by Mrs. R. Edgar Miller assisted by Mrs. Charles Miller, Mrs. John Miller and Mrs. Anson McKee. The color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the decoration of the home and in the refreshments. A beautifully decorated and lighted birthday cake entered the table. The honor guest was the recipient of many pretty and useful gifts.

Friends in this city of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Harrison Cahill of 1215 Fifth avenue, New York, former well known residents of this city, have received word of the engagement of Miss Margaret Cromwell Cahill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Cahill, to Gilbert Winslow Colby of Berkeley, California.

Interest here will be all the more general among the friends of the Cahills because of the fact that Miss Cahill was born in this city, while her father was trainmaster of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad on the old New Castle division of that road. Miss Cahill attended the Shipley school at Bryn Mawr and made her debut in Savannah, Ga., in 1928. Her father has been chairman of the board of directors of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad for the past three years and has just been made president of that road in addition to his other position, which he will retain.

The family will move to St. Louis Mo., in order that President Cahill may be in closer touch with the railroad which is now the active head as well as the chairman of the board.

The Cahill family left this city about 15 years ago, going from here to Pittsburgh, then to Cumberland and to Baltimore, as Mr. Cahill received deserved promotions on the Baltimore & Ohio. He finally severed his connection with the Baltimore & Ohio, becoming an official of the Seaboard Air Line. While affiliated with that railroad he and his family spent five years in Norfolk, Va., and three years in Savannah, Ga. He resigned three years ago to become chairman of the board of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad.

Mr. Colby is the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. William Edward Colby of Berkeley, Cal. He was graduated from the University of California in 1928 and from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration in June of this city. He is a member of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity and will enter business in San Francisco. His father is a prominent attorney of San Francisco, is active in forest conservation work and is chairman of the California State Park commission. The date of the wedding will be announced later.

In a recent issue of the St. Louis Post Dispatch there appears a picture of Miss Cahill and the announcement of the engagement.

TAKE A YEAR TO PAY

LAST MINUTE TACTICS

It seems unfortunate in a political campaign that mudslinging, whispered inferences, half truths and veiled references should be resorted to in an effort to influence votes. Such tactics do not become the dignity of any public office, nor of one seeking public office.

Particularly is it unfortunate when candidates wait until the last minutes of a campaign before putting out anonymous letters and circulars, and spreading these over the city under the cover of darkness.

In the present campaign for Representative in the General Assembly, in the first district of Lawrence County, (New Castle) it has been fortunate that nothing of an underhanded nature, nothing extraneous to the office, nothing except the facts as they apply to the office.

It occurs to me that the voters are more interested in what has been done for the district, and in a discussion of pending legislation than in anonymous circulars, whisperings and the like.

There has been some discussion concerning the proposed canalizing of the rivers in this district. A most worthy project, and the congressman from this district Dr. J. Howard Swick is to be commended for his splendid work in introducing this bill and in getting preliminary action upon it.

As meritorious a project as this is, and as much interested in it as we all are, it is yet a fact that this is a Federal project and to suggest that the Pennsylvania General Assembly will have any opportunity to act upon it is to admit complete ignorance of the true condition. It is wholly and solely a Federal project and all action upon it must necessarily be taken by the United States Congress. Hence the futility of introducing this into a campaign for the Pennsylvania General Assembly.

The Pymatuning Dam is a Pennsylvania project, and comes under the work of the General Assembly. In my service in the House of Representatives it has been my privilege to work and vote for the two appropriations which were granted in 1927-28, amounting to $750,000, which money has been used to purchase the land needed for the site. The next appropriation, which should be made in the session of 1931, will be for the foundations of the dam. Other projects which come under the General Assembly are highways, aid for city streets, hospital appropriations, etc. If you have driven over Butler Avenue, Croton Avenue, Grant Street, the New Wilmington-Pulaski Road, the Volant Road, the Enon Valley connection or the Ellwood-Portersville Road, you have driven over roads paid for by the state and secured by your members in the General Assembly.

Experience counts in industry, commerce, transportation or art, and surely is a factor in legislative bodies. The member who will represent the second district of this county will be serving his first term. Isn't it rather important that the member from the first district be experienced?

As to the whispered inferences that some of the railroad brotherhoods are opposing me, this is answered best by the words of the co-operative Legislator Board of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, expressed by the chairman G. B. Rowand. Reporting to the organizations mentioned, he says, "Mr. Richards' record in the 1929 sessions was very good and we recommend his re-election."

No honest man can defend himself against a whispering campaign. It is my conviction that reasonable men and women will give such reports the scant attention they deserve.

Tomorrow you will select your representative in the Pennsylvania General Assembly from this, the first district of Lawrence County. I am the Republican candidate for the office and

ELECTION DAY TOMORROW

ON TUESDAY voters of Pennsylvania will go to the polls to bring to a close one of the liveliest state campaigns of many years.

Certain it is that whatever the result of this voting, it will be cited broadcast throughout the land, and will have an important bearing on future national campaigns, many political observers believe.

Unfortunately indeed is the fact that in New Castle and other cities of Western Pennsylvania, where personal registration is required, many of the voters did not register and will be unable to vote tomorrow. In the counties, outside the cities, where registering is done by the assessors, there will be the possibility of a normal vote.

Doubtful important is the responsibility upon every voter who is eligible to vote tomorrow. Never was there a time when issues were as clearly defined and when it was an obligation of good citizenship to share in the balloting.

If you are eligible, don't let anything interfere with the duty of exercising your right of franchise tomorrow.

HEALTHIER

The department of commerce has diagnosed our national health and found us healthier.

Last year, among 95.7 per cent of the total population of the United States, there was a total of 1,386,363 deaths, corresponding to a rate of 11.9 per 1,000 population as compared with 12.1 in 1929.

The death rate from all causes per 100,000 population decreased from 12.071 in 1928 to 11.923 in 1929. This decrease occurred in spite of increases in deaths from influenza, heart diseases and meningitis. These three diseases caused 21.2 per cent of all deaths in 1928 and 22.7 in 1929.

There is comfort in the statistics showing a drop in the tuberculosis mortality rate of 3.4 per cent per 100,000 of population and in the cancer mortality rate of 1.1 per 100,000 of population. These are the plagues we fear most. But there is no comfort in the increase from 79.4 to 80.9 per 100,000 population in deaths from automobile and other accidents.

What does it avail us if medical science, public health and better and more intelligent living spares human lives only to have them snatched away by traffic accidents?

The trends indicated in these comparisons probably will continue to manifest themselves this year and next. The trend toward better health and greater longevity will continue. The war against death and disease is making steady progress.

CONFORMITY

It is the passion for conformity prevailing among the masses which is causing the culturists to despair of ever establishing individualism in manners, customs and art in the United States.

When the critics of literature and manners hear the cry to "Conform!" they shudder and bid farewell to a national originality and individuality. They dread the thought of a nation of people who buy books because a neighbor buys them, see a movie because everybody is seeing it, laugh at the same comic strips, hear the same radio concerts, follow the same fashions in dress and homes and buy automobiles in order to keep up with the Joneses.

Imitation is a human trait and Americans, it is hoped, are no less human than other peoples of the globe. If the people of the United States obey the impulse of conformity to a greater degree than is observable in other countries it is because standardization of production has been developed further in the United States and because the people of the United States, in spite of the great era of the country, present the most highly organized unit of humanity of any nation. American production contemplates a nation-wide demand and American means of communication—including national advertising, the newspapers and magazines—permit an instantaneous uniformity.

There is no real evil in conformity if it is tolerant of the exceptional cases of individualism and if the popular tastes are of a high standard.

Evidently young John Coolidge is totally submerged in matrimony.

A parasite is a fellow who doesn't do his share of pushing in a revolving door.

Handshaking is said to be a most common way of spreading disease. Those politicians are hard to kill.

It is still a mystery to us why that which would demoralize the people doesn't seem to affect the morals of the censors.

Now is the time when the forward-looking casually broadcast the size of their collar and hosiery and their favorite colors in neckties.

Among our unsung heroes and heroines are the censors who unflinchingly face the demoralizing fire of censored literature, theatricals and movies for the protection of our morals.

ECONOMY

You are cutting down your outlays because you feel the spirit of retrenchment.

Your income may be as large and as secure as ever, with more than enough money to meet your wants for the rest of your life.

There is no real reason for curtailing your expenditures.

It is good judgment for those who are not financially fortified against the future to be careful in buying and investing.

New Friend, Bacteriophage.

Only 6 Literary Books.
Idleness Is Real.
He shot, She Believed.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1930, King Features Syn., Inc.)

The word "bacteriophage," that means little now to human beings, may some day mean more than any other word in the language. Discovered by Dr. Felix D'Herelle, who teaches bacteriology at Yale, the bacteriophage substance has the faculty of destroying bacteria throughout the body. The word means "germ eater."

In treating Asiatic cholera with bacteriophage, Dr. D'Herelle lost eight per cent of patients. Of those lacking bacteriophage treatment more than 82 per cent died. Dysentery, which kills millions in hot countries, is made harmless by bacteriophage. The new substance is complicated, not thoroughly understood. It develops naturally in the human body as disease dies out and completes the cure. It is probably the most important discovery of many years.

Hugh Walpole finds only six books "worthy to be called literature." Tolstoy's "War and Peace," Homer's "Iliad," Jane Austen's "Pride and Prejudice," Keats' first volume of poems, Doughty's "Arabia Deserta," and Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales." He leaves out Shakespeare, although Hamlet, King Lear, Macbeth, or The Tempest is worth more than Walpole's whole list.

A prayer to the Virgin, written by Villon for his mother, has but few lines and is worth more "as literature" than all that Tolstoy, Jane Austen and Doughty ever wrote. These nonsense lists, however, are valuable, turning men's minds toward books.

Calvin Coolidge radios his fellow citizens that prosperity can't be guaranteed. But you can deserve it. In his daily "piece," he seems to think the people may have been spoiled by too many toys.

"Our people own a large supply of cotton, copper, wheat, petroleum and other raw materials. They have heavy deposits of money in the bank and man billions invested in foreign countries. Their automobiles number twenty-five millions, and so, they are feeling very poor."

The British labor government says 12,000,000 are idle here. Our government indignantly denies it, but our government lacks exact information. Government agencies supply as nearly as possible such information as the government is supposed to want.

There are many millions idle and in some trades almost everybody. For instance, 90 per cent of the lawyers. The ablest engineer engaged in clearing large tracts of land, discussing a contract with this writer said: "I had 800 thoroughly trained men in my organization, steady work, good pay. Now I have fewer than 60. One of my best men tried unsuccessfully to get a $20 a week job running an elevator by offering $15 cash for the job."

Men wait in line day after day for a chance to do heavy work at 30 cents an hour. These are the men interested in depression. The prosperous, to whom unemployment is part of an economic theory, do not understand their problem. But Mr. Coolidge understands it.

Ralph Ferrara, 20 years old, told Rose Provensano, 19, that he loved her desperately. She did not believe him. But when he shot her in the shoulder and shot himself in the head she was convinced and asked Magistrate Murphy to let him out of prison, that she might marry him next week and nurse him. Meanwhile she would sign no complaint. Both will appear at the altar bandaged.

Not so long ago no young girl would believe a man loved her unless he came secretly, knocked her down and dragged her away by the hair. Courtship has become effete.

Jewish protest against the British labor government's attitude in Palestine continues intense.

Dr. Chaim Weizmann, who expresses indignation by resigning as head of the Zionists, is a man well fitted to lead an explosive protest. He invented T. N. T., which blew up almost everything and everybody in the war. The British government is accused of "medieval race prejudice."

More serious is the expression of that race prejudice in Budapest. Students at the university organize themselves in groups of 15 to attack and beat individual Jewish students, a safe but not very courageous pastime.

Another revolution in Greece. Forty military officers arrested. In Greece, Brazil, Spain, the Argentine, when you read of revolution, military officers are involved. The American and British system of keeping civilians at the head of Army and Navy represents common sense.

Soldiers and naval officers, cut off from the run of life, are apt to believe they should manage those they don't understand.

Sam's Predicament
Sam was charged with theft and his lawyer decided to put him on the witness stand.

"Sam, if you tell a lie you know what will happen, I suppose?" queried the judge.

"Yes, suh," replied Sam. "I'll go to Hades and burn for a long time."

"Quite right," declared the judge. "And you know what will happen if you tell the truth?"

"Yes, suh," said Sam. "We lose de case!"

Germans' Moratorium Idea Gains Little Support Here

Interest Of United States In Suggestion Is Based, In Comment, On Effect It Might Have On European Payments To This Country

Hints of a moratorium for Germany in its war payments to European countries are received with some skepticism in the United States. The plan presented by Dr. Schacht, and suggested by Chancellor Brüning as the alternative to an increase in Germany's foreign trade, it is felt would complicate payments of other countries to the American government, while it might have the approval of the International Bank. It is suggested that it would be damaging to German prestige.

Among the limited number of favorable comments is that of the FLINT DAILY JOURNAL, which offers the judgment as to the surrounding conditions: "There seems to be no way of denying the actuality of Germany's difficult financial position. There is very little object, furthermore, in pushing demands beyond the point where Germany possibly can bear them. In view of the seriousness of her financial position at the moment, it is only logical to assume that Dr. Schacht's suggestion for a moratorium, though quite unofficial, may be the solution."

It is well to remember, advises the PROVIDENCE JOURNAL, that Chancellor Brüning has not said that Germany will ask for a moratorium in connection with Young plan movements. He has not advocated repudiation of the nation's obligations. He has simply stressed the seeming truth that if the German people of all parties do not cooperate in pushing the new program to success these disagreeable alternatives of a moratorium and forced revision of solemn obligations may have to be accepted. He asks cooperation from all groups. And he naturally feels that he is morally justified in requesting such combined aid because he is presenting no artificial program as a means of economic revival.

WASHINGTON EVENING STAR feels that "it is idle to prophesy what the immediate future has in store economically, either for the world or for Germany," and that power points out that "Germany is obligated at present to find the enormous sum of $425,000,000 a year for reparation payments. Her record of fulfillment under the Dawes plan," continues the Star, "was unimpaired, but the world business depression did not show its head during the period in question. Unless international times improve within a reasonable interval, it seems inevitable that Germany, sooner or later, will ask her creditors to face the facts and grant the Reich an era of grace."

"France, Great Britain and Italy would undoubtedly be loath to withhold payments to the United States if Germany failed to pay them," concludes the SOUTH BEND TRIBUNE, with the statement that "every American taxpayer would be affected," but the Tribune states as to the alternative, that "Germany's neighbors may be too busy trying to re-equip their own trade to be able to give their will to adopt Dr. Schacht's suggestion that they assist in extension of German foreign trade."

Giving significance to the Reichstag's adjournment until December 3, after a vote of confidence to Chancellor Brüning's coalition government, in the face of the "noise and fury" of the radicals, the CHARLESTON EVENING POST declares: "Americans, especially, have a large stake in orderly government in Germany and it is to be hoped that by the time the members return in December, the passions engendered by the recent election will have had time to subside and Chancellor Brüning will be permitted to go forward with his administrative policies, which in the main call for carrying on without any radical change."

The hope that "Germany can pull out of the present slump without taking any drastic action" is expressed by the LEXINGTON LEADER with the thought that "such action would have a very unfortunate effect on the entire European and indeed, the world situation." The ASBURY PARK PRESS feels that "so great is our stake in the economic stability of Europe that threats of disrupting the present structure are received in this country with grave fear."

The YAKIMA DAILY REPUBLIC recognizes the non-compromising attitude of France toward German restlessness under the treaty, but advises that "the better country had better not carry the bluff too far." The SPRINGFIELD UNION holds that "when France takes the initiative by suggesting a plan of readjustment, the time may be ripe for a serious discussion of a German moratorium."

Donation Days Great Success

Lawrence County Citizens
Responded Most Graciously In Helping Hospital

Loyal and cooperative citizens of Lawrence county responded so generously to the call for hospital aid made by the Jameson Memorial Hospital Society that the amount of food donated to the institution exceeded all hopes for expectations.

Bushels and bushels of potatoes, apples, onions, and hundreds of jars of fruit, preserves and cans of soups, vegetables and bags of kitchen supplies were brought to the hospital during the two Fruit and Vegetable Donation Days, Friday and Saturday of last week.

More gifts of food are arriving at the hospital today. Individuals, clubs, the granges of Lawrence county and the churches of New Castle and all Lawrence county showed their splendid community spirit by responding so heartily to the call for help.

Most of the donations are still on display at the Jameson Memorial hospital lobby. Many local people went to the hospital on Sunday to see the immense number of supplies, that will mean so much in the hospital maintenance during the winter.

Haul Storm Fence To Country Roads

Superintendent H. W. Lightner of the Lawrence county and Mercer county State Highway Department branches stated this afternoon that men from the seventh ward headquarters for this county were preparing today to haul storm fences to practically every county road.

Lightner said the fence will be conveyed by the department's trucks and erected on Wednesday. About 25 men will be engaged in erecting fences, he said. It is estimated that 21,678 feet of fence will be laid out on county highways this year. The work is expected to be ready by the 15th.

Some dispute has arisen as to who is entitled to the money and the petition to pay into court, pending a settlement of the trouble, was granted.

Junior C. E. Rally Is Great Success

Large Attendance At Meeting Held In The First Congregational Church

The fine autumn weather prevailing Sunday contributed in no small degree to the success of the County Junior Christian Endeavor Union held in the First Congregational church. Practically all the Junior C. E. Societies of the Lawrence County Christian Endeavor Union were represented.

Miss Myrtle Riley, the junior superintendent, had planned well for the affair and this also contributed much to the success of the event. The speaker of the rally was Mrs. Carrie Jeffers Roberts. She delivered a most interesting and forceful talk, which thrilled both the young and older people in attendance.

Her subject was "Children of Other Lands" and she gave a very fine portrayal of life and customs in several European countries, comparing conditions and advantages with those of this country.

She also spoke of forming habits in younger days and how careful we should be to lead the children in the right manner during the plastic period of their lives.

The Mahoning Presbyterian Society had charge of the devotionals, while the society of the First Congregational church gave a special program of songs and recitations under the direction of Miss Ethel Thomas. Griff Thomas, conducted the music of the meeting and Donald Heitzer officiated at the piano.

There were five societies represented: Central Christian with five, Evon Valley Presbyterian with seven, Mahoning Presbyterian with 21, First Congregational with 37, Bessemer Presbyterian with 48, a total of 118 children in all. There were a number of adults also. The prize banner for the best attendance went to the Bessemer Presbyterian Society.

Much credit is due to Miss Riley for the large attendance.

PINCHOT AND THE ENTIRE REPUBLICAN TICKET WILL WIN

The friends of good government and the candidates who will fight for the interests of the people have made a good clean fight and we know the voters have generously responded to the truth and will vote straight tomorrow.

The voters of Lawrence County are not easily fooled. The mis-statements and the hypocrisy of certain groups opposing the Republican candidates have not misled the rank and file of the voter.

Mr. O. P. Brown and his little band, who call themselves Republicans, have not fooled anybody. We all know they are only bolters and poor sportsmen who went into the Republican Primaries and lost and now have taken their playthings and gone to the wringing wet ticket where they belong. They have gone to great expense in publishing a letter of Congressman Graham of Philadelphia in order to show the people of Lawrence County how to vote. Graham is a product of the Philadelphia machine, a gang politician, an out-spoken wet and never was for Pinchot.

Graham's letter from Philadelphia fully supports our party's contention that John M. Hemphill is but the voice of Atterbury and the corrupt Philadelphia gang. We are grateful for this corroboration.

The Liberal party has brazenly insulted the intelligence of the voters of Pennsylvania. They entered the Republican Primaries in the spring and carried but one county out of sixty-seven and now have the affrontery to enter the Democratic party at the fall election in spite of their ignominious defeat.

The voters, whether Republican or Democrat, will not overlook such duplicity and poor sportsmanship. This group cannot claim kinship with either Democrat or Republican.

Since the law provides a legal method of repealing the prohibition amendment good citizens who desire the repeal will use this method but good citizens will hardly support a man or a party whose principal platform is for nullification of the constitution by repealing Pennsylvania's enforcement law without even a suggestion of a substitute for that law and thus leave all our counties helpless to punish drunken drivers and others who choose to violate the law.

Mr. Voter, do not be deceived by those who attempt to use both the major parties in destroying and tearing down without any plan for the rebuilding, do not repeal an amended necessary law without some substitute to take its place.

Vote the straight Republican ticket.

Dwight Morrow Confident Of Election To United States Senate

SIMPSON ALSO APPEARS SURE

(International News Service)
TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 3.—New Jersey's senatorial campaign was brought to a close tonight with both Dwight W. Morrow, Republican, and Alexander Simpson, Democrat, claiming victory.

According to Republican leaders there was no question of Morrow's victory and merely how large a plurality he would roll up concerned them. His election was predicted by the Republicans by from 150,000 to 300,000.

Republican chiefs said Morrow would carry 20 of the 21 counties, the one exception being Hudson county, bailiwick of Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City and the strong rock of Democracy in the state.

Democrats claimed Simpson's triumph by from 50,000 to 100,000 votes.

AS WILD GUSHER MENACED CAPITAL OF OKLAHOMA

Roaring defiance to a small army of men seeking to curb it, a wild gusher threatened the east section of Oklahoma City's residential district as well as the wholesale area with destruction if fire broke out. Gives Temperance Talk At Croton M. E.

Urges Christian Voters To Get
Out To Polls On Tuesday
And Vote

C. L. McMillen delivered a splendid talk on temperance in the Croton M. E. Sunday school Sunday morning, the day being observed as temperance day by the Sunday school under the direction of Mrs. Annie Williams, temperance superintendent.

Mr. McMillen stated that many attempts have been made by the wet politicians and others to prove that prohibition has been a failure, but from his own observation he stated that he was convinced that a few crooks in the cellar cannot be compared to the tremendous amount of liquor made by the breweries before prohibition became effective.

He cited the fact that there were speakeasies and bootleggers prior to prohibition, but that now there were the only things we had to contend with.

In conclusion he urged every Christian voter to be at the polls Tuesday as one of the biggest fights that has ever been held with the prohibition question injected was now in progress.

PINCHOT AND HEMPHILL BOTH ARE CONFIDENT

frauds, if any were committed by his opposition, while Hemphill charged the Republican's campaign had included "whispering" and "slandering misrepresentation." But both were confident of victory.

"The fight is over," said Pinchot. "We have won. The Philadelphia gang has lost its third attempt this year to control the government of the commonwealth. Defeated in the primary, defeated before the supreme court, it will be defeated again tomorrow by the overwhelming sentiment of the honest people of this state."

"I am not going to engage in any bombast about the size of my majority in tomorrow's election," countered Hemphill. "It is more important to me to deny, once and for all, the slanderous misrepresentation of my opposition, before I am elected governor of Pennsylvania."

The third candidate, James H. Maurer, Socialist nominee, awaited the verdict confident of defeat. He hasn't even an outside chance of winning and has gone so far as to predict Hemphill's election.

Eclipses Other Battles.
The exciting battle over the governorship has eclipsed all the other state contests but Pennsylvania will elect a U. S. senator, 36 representatives to congress, 27 state senators, a whole state house of representatives and a complete state ticket. Aside from Pinchot's fate all the other Republicans running on the state-wide ticket will win by the usual majority. Secretary of Labor James J. Davis probably will defeat his opponent, Sedgwick Kistler, by 400,000 for the U. S. senate seat denied William S. Vare a few years ago and held since by Joseph R. Grundy by special appointment.

The wholesale bolting, characterizing the gubernatorial contest, may have strange effects on the races for congress. The Republicans now hold all but one of the 36 seats. The Democrats claim victory in at least eight districts but stand to win only from three to five seats, unless the Pinchot-Hemphill fracas causes additional upsets.

Many Bolters.
So far as the gubernatorial race is concerned, there will be hundreds of thousands of life-long partisans voting for the nominee of the opposing ticket. The Republican bolt against Pinchot was started by Charles Hall, member of the Republican "war board" that controls the Philadelphia organization. Then W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, resigned his post as Republican national committeeman rather than support Pinchot. After that, there came a steady trend of Republican bolters to the Hemphill cause.

This bolting of Republicans inspired the Pinchot workers to seek Democratic support and Vance McCormick, former Democratic national chairman, led a Democratic bolt to the Republican nominee.

He was soon joined by John A. McSparran and Eugene Bonniwell, former Democratic nominees for governor. Their support of Pinchot gave strength to his claim of rolling up victories in the dry Democratic strongholds upstate.

One strange feature of this campaign has been the attitude of political leaders, who publicly declare for one candidate and then privately support the other. More Republicans have been guilty of this than Democrats. It accounted for Pinchot placing his own leaders in charge of the campaign in a number of counties to prevent upsets on election day. The effect of this maneuvering cannot be forecasted, but in some counties the result undoubtedly will be a breath-taking surprise to one of the candidates.

Wet and Dry Fight.

The gubernatorial issues have been manifold, but the nation will look upon the race as a wet and dry fight. Pinchot declared himself as dry as he was in 1922 when he used state police to enforce prohibition.

Hemphill announced himself dripping wet and demanded repeal of the state bone-dry law as well as the 18th amendment, substituting therefore state control of liquor.

Pinchot gained some support upstate by aligning Hemphill with the Republican organization in Philadelphia. He charged the organization was supporting Hemphill only to win control of the state government. Hemphill denied any such allegiance, said he had never even met the big Philadelphia leaders and denied any deal over patronage. In turn, he charged Pinchot's campaign was being "bossed" by Joseph R. Grundy, the arch protectionist and famous lobbyist, who would "run the state if Pinchot were elected." Pinchot never replied to this charge.

Pinchot also made an issue of certain public utilities. He demanded elimination of the present state public service commission and creation of a new fair rate board to regulate the utilities. Hemphill pledged himself to "fair treatment" of both consumers and companies. Toward the end of the campaign, both men pledged themselves to the principle of public ownership of water companies. Another of their accords was favoring old age pensions and an improved workmen's compensation law—which have long been ranking doctrines of the Socialist party in this state.

50,000 Vote Margin.

All indications point to a close race, the consensus of opinion among 100 neutral leaders and editors—gathered by International News Service—indicating a victory by 50,000 votes either way. All the Philadelphia newspapers have agreed that the result is in doubt, a strange occurrence for them, and may be decided either way by a few thousand votes.

To win, Pinchot must carry Allegheny county strongly, sweep the anthracite region and roll up a heavy vote in the rural communities upstate. For Hemphill to win he must hold Pinchot's vote down in Pittsburgh and the hard coal fields, stand him off somewhat in rural communities and poll a tremendous vote in Philadelphia. The neutral leaders and editors estimated a 38,000 Pinchot plurality in Pittsburgh and a 190,000 Hemphill victory in Philadelphia—which brought them out almost even. The election tomorrow will reveal how correct they were, although if it is a close race, the exact result may not be known for several days.

The registration this year has totaled 3,500,000 but few leaders expect a vote exceeding 2,000,000. In 1926, 3,224,000 registered but only 1,504,000 voted. In 1929, 3,583,000 registered but only 1,719,000 voted. This year the registration was not as high but there was more interest in the campaign, especially in the cities.

Collision Occurs At Grant Street And Jefferson

Oakland Avenue Man Suffers
Serious Injuries In Crash

Walter Plonka, 124 Oakland avenue, is in a critically injured condition in the New Castle hospital, as a result of an accident at North Jefferson and Grant streets, about eleven o'clock last night, when his car and that of H. D. Simmons of 515 Superior street, Grove City, Pa., came together. The injury of Plonka was sustained in a rather unusual manner. He is suffering from a fracture of the left ankle and a compound fracture of the right knee-cap.

According to the reports made to the police, H. D. Simmons was enroute east on Grant street at North Jefferson street. He was not sure where he was and when he had determined his location, he turned south on Jefferson street.

The Plonka car was enroute north on North Jefferson street and the machines came together with considerable force.

The Simmons car was upset by its compact with the Plonka car. The force of the collision knocked open the door of the Plonka car and Walter Plonka, the driver, was thrown out of his machine, sustaining the injury of both legs as already mentioned. Walter Smith, 11 Elmwood avenue who was in the Plonka car, escaped injury. The occupants of the Simmons car also escaped injury.

Is Done To Cars

Eugene Bailey, 1305 Wilmington avenue, reported Sunday that he was driving the car of William H. Bailey south on North Jefferson street at Grant street, as the car of Frank Kinkela of Lowellville, O., came north on North Jefferson street and made a left hand turn on West Grant street. Mr. Bailey could not make a regular turn onto Grant street because of another car on that street and crowded in as close as possible to the curb to avoid the Kinkela car. The machines, however, came together and both were damaged.

Abe Vago of 613 Allen street, reported that he was driving the car of Mrs. Julius Vago south on East street at Washington street Sunday as W. D. West of Youngstown, O., came west on Neshannock avenue and continued on west onto Washington street. Both cars had the right of way and came together, both being damaged to some extent.

Roy McConahy, 934 Marshall avenue, reported that he was enroute west on East Long avenue, and making a right hand turn onto South Mill street Sunday as a car bearing Pennsylvania license 821MO going east on Long avenue, made a left hand turn onto South Mill street. Both had the green light and the result was that they came together, both machines being damaged.

Samuel Stewart, R. D. No. 1, reported Sunday that he was enroute south on North Cedar street, as a car bearing Pennsylvania license 6E72 also going south, sideswiped and damaged his car as it was passing his machine. The driver of the car failed to stop.

Warren Jordan, Volant R. D. 4 reported that he was enroute west on Neshannock avenue and planning to go west on Washington street on the green light, as Officer John Moore in the police car went south from East street to Water street. The light changed as Jordan was enroute and his machine crashed into the side of the police car, damaging both machines to a considerable extent.

Frank Sullivan reported that he was driving the car of J. Sullivan of 212 West Falls street, east on East Washington street, in front of the Pennsylvania station when a car bearing Pennsylvania license ZG609 came out of the Pennsylvania property, making a left hand turn onto Washington street. The machines came together some damage being done. The other machine belonged to S. C. Helbley of the Paper Mill road.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH OBSERVES 75th ANNIVERSARY

inal congregation, but due to her accident of last week this was set aside.

A dignified atmosphere of beautiful simplicity is the reigning note in the decoration and an attitude of quiet reverence was that of the congregation and friends as they entered the sanctuary for the first time since the remodeling began during the summer months.

The morning service opened with Mrs. Paul Browne Patterson at the console playing "Toccata" in G Minor by Matthews.

The invocation was asked by Dr.

MRS. THOMAS W. PHILLIPS, SR.
Only Surviving Original Member of
First Christian Church.

Gershon S. Bennett, pastor of the church, and the regular weekly communion was administered and the new choir of the church offered the anthem "Te Deum."

Gifts Dedicated.
Dr. Bennett in his dedication of the gifts to the church said "Honor to Whom Honor is Due" is a saying that must be upheld and begged to announce to the congregation and friends that it was through the tireless efforts of Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson that most of the work of the remodeling had been done, she had assumed most of the responsibility for the great undertaking and had given endlessly of her time as well as finances for the beautifying of their place of worship. The vestibule, its beautiful furnishings and handsome painting, "The Presence," had been a gift of Mrs. Johnson and her efforts had been responsible for the planning of the baptistry, the designs of the walls, the windows and the pulpit and for many weeks she had been in the church, overseeing the work, giving of her time unstintingly to see that every little detail was carried out to make the church one of the most beautiful in the city. The house committee expressed, through Dr. Bennett, its utmost appreciation to Mrs. Johnson for her cooperation in carrying out such an extensive program.

A pulpit Bible and reading lamp for over it was given as a remembrance of William Boyle, by his mother and sister.

Mrs. T. W. Phillips lauded. An eulogy was expressed by Dr. Bennett for the untiring interest and generosity of the only surviving member of the original congregation, Mrs. T. W. Phillips, whose unfortunate accident of a week ago prevented her from being present at the services but whose spirit was there, although her body lay in a bed of suffering at the Jameson Memorial hospital. Dr. Bennett said that when he had visited Mrs. Phillips late Saturday evening her words to him were "I believe some good thing is ultimately to come out of my suffering" and he said Mrs. Phillips was patiently and uncomplainingly awaiting the day of her recovery and her prayers and thoughts would be with the congregation on this day of celebration.

The church clock in the tower and the shrubbery about the grounds were the gift of Mrs. Johnson also and for these things she was publicly thanked.

To the workmen who had given their time without sleep for hours upon end so that the edifice might be in readiness for the jubilee today and for all things, no matter how small which had been contributed by the members of the congregation the pastor thanked them on behalf of the house committee. He said the great change in their place of worship had been made possible through the cooperation of the entire membership.

Dr. Bennett gave a short history of how men had made a place of beauty of their place of worship, even from the distant past when temples were built for their deities, and although at first the Christians had worshipped in caves and in their homes, gradually they came to build temples worthy of the God they worshiped, and the magnificent cathedrals of today are ideals of beautiful simplicity wherein we may worship.

He closed his remarks with a dedicatory prayer and the joyful expression of the hearts of the people was feeling expressed in Sam Lewis' rendition of "Open the Gates of the Temple."

President Goodnight Speaks.
The speaker of the morning was then introduced by Dr. Bennett, President Goodnight of Bethany college, who, as a man who is well versed in the history of the brotherhood movement and the establishment of the Disciples of Christ, was well qualified to bring the message of the morning, which was a discourse on "The Sermon of Alexander Campbell on the True Covenant."

DR. G. S. BENNETT
Pastor of First Christian Church.

DR. CLOYD GOODNIGHT
Who Made Addresses at Diamond Jubilee.

President Goodnight gave his discourse in the form of a story, going back to a night in 1810 when two horse back riders stopped at the home of a prosperous farmer in the district which is now West Virginia. These men turned out to be Thomas Campbell and his son Alexander, who was to become a founder of the present "Disciples of Christ" church. The farmer was John Brown, a Presbyterian of that day, who had gone through the hardships of the pioneer. He traced the work of Alexander Campbell from the time he became interested in the new baptism, or immersion, as practiced by the Baptists of that day. He became interested in the movement and went into the study of the project, and after he had learned the truths to his satisfaction, was baptized in the faith and became one of the ardent workers among the early pioneers and at the time of the preaching of his famous sermon on the "True Covenant" brought down the wrath of some of the people on his head, but he persevered and in 1815 established what is now Bethany College in Bethany, W. Va.

Alexander Campbell had more to do with the proper interpretation of the truths of the Gospel than any other man of his time or any later time. He preached the living Christ, not the law and led many to the following of the Jesus, who came to make the way clear for those to follow.

Heart, Lord Jesus" after which the announcements of interest to the congregation were made and the offering lifted. A duet by Miss Garvin and Mrs. Schenck "How Beautiful upon the Mountain" seemed to put the audience in just the right mood for the balance of the program.

Clock Presentation
Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson in a few well chosen words, presented the clock in the tower of the church to the congregation and to the city. Mrs. Johnson said: "For many years from the steeple of the church four unseeing eyes have looked down upon the surroundings and it has long been my wish to fill these sockets and as this clock ticks off the seconds, minutes and hours, may we all render a good account of the minutes, hours and days of our own lives."

The clock was accepted on behalf of the congregation by John G. Jones, who said this was one of the happiest days of the life of the congregation and he was proud to accept the gift from one whom he had watched grow up in loyalty and faith to the religion of his parents, whom he knew so well, he spoke feelingly of his friendship with Mrs. W. Phillips Sr. and most feelingly of his relationship with Mrs. Phillips through the long years of her service to the church and said he was pleased to see the same loyalty and devotion had been handed down in the daughter and see her actuated by the same motives and he accepted the clock in the same spirit it was given and he expressed the thoughts of the entire congregation in his acceptance speech.

He then turned to Mayor W. H. Gillespie and presented the clock to the city of New Castle with the hope that the entire city would enjoy this gift.

Mayor Gillespie, in a short speech accepted the clock on behalf of the city, saying that time is a valuable thing and as this clock ticks off the time in view of the valuelessness of the fleeting hours would be felt by those who are being benefited by this magnificent gift.

Evening Discourse
President Goodnight again came to the pulpit for the evening address and again took up the life and work of another founder and leader in the Brotherhood movement, that of Dr. Robert Richardson, who had contributed so much to the cause. He took up the life of Dr. Richardson from the time he was a small child attending school in Pittsburgh, which was just a small village in 1815 of how he became interested in everything concerning mankind. He was taught in the Pittsburgh school by Thomas Campbell, the father of the Alexander Campbell he had spoken of in the morning address and became a staunch friend of the teacher, making the acquaintance of the son, Alexander, who was to work with him in later years.

After hard years of study Robert Richardson became a practicing physician, a musician, a linguist, a painter, a teacher, a writer, and a moulder of men. He was a man of wide interests, well directed.

He traced his life through his friendships with leaders of the Disciples of Christ movement, telling of his conversion to the faith, his later connection with Bethany College, where he was teacher of chemistry, biology, geology, hygiene and during the times of the absence of the president took his place. He was trustee of the college for many years and was connected with the beginning of the literature for the Disciples of Christ being many years associate editor of the "Millennial Harbinger."

In addition to his work at the college, he still practices medicine, calling on his patients, developed a farm of 67 acres, helped the agricultural department of the government in many experiments, raised prize fruit and was a man of joyousness in his home. He was secretary of the first missionary organization of the church in 1834 and was vitally interested in anything which tended toward the progress of the church.

He was the author of one of the outstanding books of even today, "The Holy Spirit" which has been pronounced the best book ever written on the subject.

His life ended in 1876 after many years of usefulness in many fields of endeavor.

The evening program was brought to a close by a baptismal service.

To All Voters of the Second Legislative District

It would be fine for everybody concerned if, on tomorrow, every voter in the Second Legislative District would vote for me. It would not cost this district anything; it would be no reflection on my former opponents all of whom now are supporting me; but it would give prestige in the Legislature that would benefit this whole district very much.

I feel that I am not an egoist. I hope I never shall become an egoist. However, if and when I go to the Legislature, I expect to stand on my own feet without any assistance from the First District. If I am elected, and I feel sure that I will be, and I talk to me, you will be talking to your representative from the Second District. I will welcome, even seek, advice and assistance from all, but will accept dictation from none.

Please turn out and vote. It means much to you.

Respectfully submitted,

COOPERATION WITH NEEDLE-
WORK GUILD

A most interesting cooperation is being given to the Needle Work Guild this year—one which will increase the number of garments by about 40 or more—in work being done by this year's graduate class of the vocational household economics department.

This cooperation happens to be of advantage to the school as well as to the guild for one of the features of home work being studied this semester is the "Care of the Child in the Home". Naturally, the first thought given the child is the preparation of its first garments. So the economics department is glad to get the materials out of which to fashion the garments in this case are provided by two members of Section Five of the guild. The girls furnish the work on these garments, and the information is given that they are having real pleasure in doing it. One of the members of Section Five is responsible for the knitting of the little shirts and they will complete the outfit.

WHO'S WHO

It might be well to explain that vocational household economics was introduced into the high school only three years ago. That the class was small in the beginning and has dwindled down to two members in the first graduation. So when you think of the class working on garments for some child who comes into the world without the traditional silver spoon in its mouth, please remember it is composed of two girls, by name—Margaret Pray and Martha Holbrook.

Interest in household economics is rapidly increasing in the high school both by those who see in it innumerable opportunities in a vocational way and those who wish to increase their fitness for home work.

PATRIOTIC WORK

The movement just set on foot under the direction of President Hoover to enlist the women of our country in the effort to tide over the present financial depression with the assertion of the president that their efforts are just as needed in such an effort as during a war period.

Central Standard Time Was

Back in 1891, not so far back, you could leave Pittsburgh 11:11 a. m. in at 9:55 in the morning and count on being here sometime after noon, according to figures an old Pittsburgh and Lake Erie timetable uncovered by Frank C. Douds, this city.

Nowadays you can board a train there at 5 o'clock in the evening and you'll be here in plenty of time for an early dinner.

P. G. Blackford was city passenger and ticket agent then; the late J. B. Yohe, deceased president of the road was the master of transportation, while the late G. M. Beach was counsel superintendent.

Mr. Douds also found several tickets used by him in his daily rides into Pittsburgh.

Central standard time, an hour slower than Eastern Standard was in use by the railroads then. Railroads did away with it January 1, 1919.

TELLS OF VOTING MACHINES

8 Williams St.,
Falconer, N. Y.

Editor New Castle News,
New Castle, Pa.

Dear Sir:

I have been informed that the voters of New Castle will decide at the general election on Tuesday, November 4, whether or not voting machines will be adopted for use in that city.

I have been a resident of Falconer, N. Y., for 36 years and for 29 years voting machines have been successfully used, and I would appreciate it if you would permit me to mention a few of the principal advantages derived through the use of machines.

During that time the expense for repairs and maintenance has been practically nil. The machines are functioning satisfactorily and it is estimated that the life of one is 50 years. In that the voters of your city have this opportunity to obtain the voting machines, I earnestly believe that they should acquaint themselves with the merits and shortcomings of the mechanical ballot so that an intelligent vote may result with respect to this issue.

It is generally conceded that the foremost advantage derived through the use of voting machines is the assurance of an honest election. So many voters that have used paper ballots are skeptical of recording their vote on any machine, believing that corruption can be effected just as well with the mechanical ballot as with the cumbersome and unreliable paper ballots. If this were the case I do not believe there would be 18,000 voting machines now used successfully in more than 2,000 cities, towns and villages throughout the United States. Without a doubt New York City with its cosmopolitan population serves as the best criterion where the machines have reduced to a minimum fraudulent practices. Approximately 3500 machines are utilized in this large metropolis annually and since their adoption several years ago, the cry of fraud has not been heard from this city.

Voting machines provide utmost secrecy for the voters in that no voting can be accomplished until the curtain is entirely closed about the voter. Thus, all voting is done by means of metallic indicators, thus abolishing the use of pencils which unavoidably cause identifying marks on paper ballots. Spoiled ballots are impossible when machines are used as only as many pointers can be turned down as there are candidates to be elected to an office.

Perhaps one of the most outstanding benefits accruing through the use of machines, which is appreciated by the present voters and eager candidates, is the immediate, accurate returns available as soon as the polls close. If machines were in use in New Castle, returns could be canvassed within a half hour after the polls closed. Under the present system, it is necessary for the number element to count and recount the paper ballots far into the night and the true count is not known until the next day.

I am reliably informed that since voting machines have been in use during the past 32 years "no breakdowns or defects" have resulted so that the vote has been declared invalid. Of course, it is granted that voting machines are not infallible, but if they had proved defective, inefficient or impracticable, officials and politicians and the voters in places that now use them would have demanded their elimination to the side lines long before this. In Buffalo, Utica, Rochester, New Haven, Grand Rapids, San Francisco, New York and other cities no larger than New Castle, machines have been employed for years and no great expense has been entailed for repairs or maintenance. In fact the machines have paid for themselves in a period of over seven to nine years.

It should be borne in mind by the voters of this progressive city that the voting population is large enough to justify the employment of the modern voting machines in that it will serve to make voting easy, provide a secret ballot, dispense with expensive recounts and litigation, effect a financial saving eliminate spoiled and defective ballots and furnish an immediate, accurate count on election night.

Sharon, Grove City, Greenville, Farrell, Erie and a number of other large and small communities of northwestern Pennsylvania have relegated the paper ballots to the side lines and installed voting machines by authorization of the voters who approved the voting machine question at the 1929 general election. Very respectfully yours,

O. T. WILBORG.

Dr. Jordan Comes To County To Vote,
Will Conduct Red Cross Campaign

Hon. Charles G. Jordan came, or rather drove, to town Sunday from his headquarters in Harrisburg. This morning the Secretary of Agriculture of Pennsylvania was enthusiastic over his activities in New Castle and vicinity for the next few weeks.

"I came to vote, or course," Dr. Jordan told the interviewer, speaking in his room at the Fountain Inn hotel.

He votes in Volant, near where his huge stock farm is situated. He intimated he would leave the city today for Volant.

A program of activities, replete with visits, talks and other requirements that precipitate a county-wide campaign await the distinguished visitor, who will conduct the workers in the 14th annual Lawrence county Red Cross roll call.

"What do you think of the election?" the Secretary of Agriculture was asked.

"I would rather not be quoted on that," he answered.

He did show great interest in Tuesday's war of ballots, but declined to comment for publication.

Dr. Jordan will address workers of the Red Cross call who will meet in the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday, to discuss plans for the campaign. The organized drive for subscriptions will be inaugurated Armistice Day and continue until November 27.

Amendment Not To Affect Passes To R. R. Employees

Only Effect Would Be To Allow Blind People Reduced Fares

Among railroad employees of the city, there has been considerable discussion in the past few days concerning the meaning of a proposed amendment to the constitution of Pennsylvania, which would amend section eight, article seventeen of the constitution. This has to do with the granting of passes to employees.

The mistaken interpretation put upon the proposed amendment is that it would cut off all passes to wives or families, and prohibit passes upon roads other than the one worked upon by a man or woman asking for pass.

Doesn't Touch Passes

Actually, the amendment does not attempt to restrict passes to employees or their families, but only adds blind people to those to whom the railroad is permitted to sell tickets at a reduced rate. At the present time clerical men are the only ones aside from railroad men who are allowed this privilege.

At one time a railroad was permitted to give passes to any person or persons it so desired. The constitution was then amended to read as follows: "no railroad, railway or other transportation company shall grant free passes or passes at a discount to any person except officers, employees of the company."

On November 5th, 1923, the people of the state by their votes amended the section to include clerical men. Now the proposed amendment would make selection eight, article seventeen read as follows: "No railroad, railway or any transportation company shall grant free passes or passes at a discount to any person except officers, employees of the company, clerical men and blind persons." In other words the constitutional provision concerning passes has three words added to these being, "and blind people."

Not Coming up For Vote

This proposed amendment is not coming up for vote at tomorrow's election. It must pass a second time in the General Assembly, and it passed in the session of 1931, it will then go to the people for a vote. It does pass the General Assembly and the people pass it by their votes it will not affect any railway employee, wives or families, in short will not change the status of passes as they are now. It will permit railroads to sell blind people, tickets at a reduced rate.

My thirteen-year-old daughter Maxine was troubled with backache and pain when she came into womanhood. I knew Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would help her because I used to take it myself at her age. Now she does not have to stay home from school and her color is good, she eats well and does not complain of being tired. We are recommending the Vegetable Compound to other school girls who need it. Whole-hearted, natural, real!

EQUALLY genuine is the response of smokers to Chesterfield's satisfying goodness, its wholesome smoothness.

No one ever has to "acquire" a taste for Chesterfields. You don't have to learn to like them. Smokers take to their pleasing flavor instinctively . . . and here's why:

MILDNESS — the entirely natural mildness of tobaccos that are without harshness or bitterness.

BETTER TASTE — Such as only a cigarette of wholesome purity and better tobaccos can have.

WHEN CHILDREN FRET

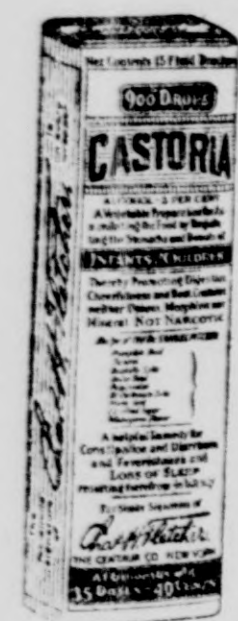

MANY things can make a youngster fretful—sluggish bowels; a touch of colic; when teething or at other trying times. But there's only one remedy a mother should ever use to comfort an ailing child in any of these conditions. Castoria!

This pure old-fashioned remedy most mothers have learned to depend on, comforts a child like nothing else. It has an important place in five million modern homes where mothers keep it always on hand, so they will be ready to render first aid when a child is ailing.

Watch your child's tongue; when it is coated, or whenever the breath is tainted, let this pure vegetable preparation come to the aid of that sour stomach or clogged bowels.

The beauty of Castoria is that it can be given as often as needed. It contains no harmful ingredients. The recipe on the wrapper tells you how mild and bland it is. It is a children's remedy, made especially for the children. Ideal for infants—yet effective in larger doses for a child in his teens.

Genuine Fletcher's Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

APPLES RECOMMENDED AS FOOD FOR HEALTH

Apples in the proper condition for eating are highly recommended as a food for health.

They contain fuel-producing carbohydrates and a small percentage of protein and fat. In addition to these substances which have actual food value, apples contain various materials which afford distinctive flavor, stimulate the appetite, and aid in the digestion of other foods.

Buyers of apples should discover the special qualities desired in fruit to be used for various purposes and to learn the names of the varieties which possess them. Too often, consumers order apples by the pound, peck or bushel rather than by name, never realizing that apples vary according to season and the purpose for which they are to be used.

Varieties are classified as dessert, baking or pie apples. Few varieties possess the qualifications of all three classes and even these do not meet the requirements at all seasons.

Dessert apples, those eaten out of hand are best chosen from the following varieties: McIntosh, Grimes Golden, Delicious, Jonathan, Northern Spy, Baldwin, Stayman and Winesap in the order of their maturity.

For baking, the best varieties are Wealthy, McIntosh, Grimes Golden, Jonathan, York Imperial, Rome, Greening, Northern Spy, Stayman, Baldwin, Stark, Ben Davis and Gano. The best pie apples are Wealthy, Wagner, York, Rome, Greening, Northern Spy, Stayman, Baldwin, Stark, Ben Davis and Gano.

Apples now in season are McIntosh, Grimes, Delicious, and Jonathan for dessert; McIntosh, Grimes Golden, Jonathan, York and Rome for baking, and Wealthy, Wagner, York and Rome for pies.

CONFINED PULLETS LAY MORE AND BETTER EGGS

Country poultrymen who have satisfactory houses that are not overcrowded will generally make greater profits from their pullet flocks if they are kept shut in during the fall and winter months instead of allowed to run over the farm.

Pullets kept confined will not be exposed to disease germs and parasite eggs in the contaminated soil near the laying quarters. Birds shut in will consume most mash and as a result will lay more eggs. A flock to produce heavily must eat large quantities of concentrated feed.

When birds are allowed to run all over the farm, many eggs are laid and lost in stolen nests. Even though these nests are found, the quality of the eggs in them has deteriorated and they must be sold for lower prices. There will be fewer dirty eggs when birds are not allowed access to muddy yards. Even when soiled eggs are cleaned, they will not bring premium prices.

PUT SPRAYER AWAY IN GOOD CONDITION

Lawrence County Potato and Fruit Growers should put their sprayers away in good condition.

Freezing weather is bound to cause trouble for those growers who do not have their spray pumps drained before it arrives. Engines, pumps, pipes, and hose should be completely drained of water. Nozzles should be removed from the boom and kept in the best condition by being well oiled or being immersed in a pan of oil until next season.

Oil is the best insurance against rust and corrosion. Rust and corrosion not only depreciate the efficiency of the sprayer but cause inconvenience the following season by clogging nozzles. It has been well demonstrated that those growers who make a practice of putting their sprayers away in good conditions have the least trouble the following spring and are getting the longest service out of their machines.

The pump and engine should be well oiled before the machine goes into storage. This also applies to other working parts and connections which will facilitate adjustments the following season.

Shows Benefits Of Prohibition

Noted Methodist Temperance Leader Speaks Here
On Sunday

LARGE AUDIENCE
AT FIRST CHURCH

"Prohibition has converted Uncle Sam," declared Dr. Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Morals of the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday morning in an address before the congregation of the First Methodist church.

Dr. Wilson, who in the past three months has been touring the United States with Attorney Clarence A. Darrow with whom he has been debating the liquor question is one of the best informed, perhaps the best informed man in the United States today on the question of prohibition. His work as secretary of the board mentioned, brings him with intimate contact with the workings of the prohibition laws and the functioning of enforcement officials.

What Has It Done?

"What has prohibition done for the United States?" asked Dr. Wilson. "It has outlawed the liquor traffic, the moral miracle of the Twentieth Century, an impossibility already accomplished. It has annihilated the license system. There was only one thing in the world worse than the organized legalized liquor traffic and that was the license system that perpetuated it, threw over it the false garb of respectability, made it a source of revenue and thus opened a gilded gateway for the destruction of young manhood."

"Prohibition has removed legalized and organized temptation from our streets. The weakest man in America can walk from his home to his shop or the factory, or the business office and all the way back without ever being tempted to drink. He can get liquor if he hunts it, but the liquor traffic is not hunting him down."

"Prohibition has put the biggest liquor dealer the ever saw completely out of business, has got him up at the altar, got him converted, had him disgorge his ill-gotten gains and refuse to ever take another blood stained dollar of profits out of the trade. You may speak of some little bootlegger or hideaway still in a cellar or thickets as a failure of prohibition, but I will put the conversion of Uncle Sam from a big red-nosed rum seller to a high toned and self respecting Christian gentleman as an achievement of prohibition that far outweighs his being a little slow to run down the last still and trip up the last bootlegger. Prohibition has converted Uncle Sam."

Cleaned Up Politics

"Prohibition has been the greatest clean-up in American politics of any single movement in the history of our country. It took two saloons in the Capitol Building, one in the Senate and one in the House to accommodate the gundersnipes that the saloons used to put for our representatives."

"Prohibition has totally transformed the habits and home life of America's liquor drinking millions. The old conditions are forgotten, and we hardly know what it means to be told that this country had a million drunkards."

After devoting considerable time to a general discussion of prohibition as a national issue, Dr. Wilson touched upon the present state campaign for governor in Pennsylvania. "If I were a Pennsylvanian I would be forced to vote for Gifford Pinchot," said he.

"He is being opposed by the wet politicians and by such leaders as General W. W. Atterbury of the Pennsylvania Railroad. This is rather surprising when you remember that the Pennsylvania was probably the leader in the movement for prohibition. Forty years ago the company established Rule G which provided dismissal for any employee found drinking, or frequenting places where liquor was sold. Other railroads took the issue up, industry followed and very shortly we had all industry opposed to liquor. Now General Atterbury would place in the governor's chair a man who is against the prohibition cause."

First M. E. was crowded to hear the distinguished speaker Sunday morning, for not often is it possible to get a man of such reputation and ability as Dr. Wilson. He was introduced by the pastor of the church, Rev. H. C. Weaver.

Youthful Bandits Rob Drug Store

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 3.—Police were searching for two youthful bandits who held up the woman proprietor of a pharmacy and her clerk and made their escape with $500 in cash and a wrist watch.

The bandit pair entered the store while Mrs. Harman, 26, and Harry Hobson, 39, a clerk, were in the prescription room in the rear.

Warning the woman and clerk to remain quiet and threatening them with revolvers, one of the robbers ransacked the cash register while the other forced Hobson to give up his wrist watch valued at $25.

The two men escaped by running from the store, according to Mrs. Harman.

McKeesport police were notified of the robbery.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Every now and then people turn in and do something that strengthens your belief in the human race. Sort of brings back the idea that most of us are sound at the core, even if now and then some little ex-crescence pops out. What I'm getting at is the wonderful response of the women of this county to the appeal for canned goods for the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Dr. Bissell, the superintendent of the hospital had two tables laid out to hold the donations, and these were filled so quickly that he imagined a canning factory had sent up a load. More tables were rushed up, and on Sunday afternoon the pile of canned fruits and vegetables was a monument to the generosity of the people who gave.

One look at the collection and you wondered how sick you had to be to get into the hospital. And if you did, how long it would be before you would be given such dainties as peaches, or tomatoes or spiced pears.

A remarkable outpouring, and for today's candidates for medals, may we nominate those women who sponsored the Donation Day, and every one who aided either in work or in contributions.

Saw W. & J. take on Thiel Saturday afternoon and while it was a fair game, yet the interest for most of us in football is in the high school game. There were some good boys out there Saturday, Rush and Armstrong for W. & J. and Leonard and Wordie for Thiel, but when you don't know the players, the interest isn't quite as keen.

bers of the V. F. W. Initiation of officers and the affair promises to be quite doggy. The initiation takes place in the ball room of the Castleton where there is plenty of room, and then is followed by a lunch in the Legion Home.

Had an interesting visitor in the press box at Taggart Field Saturday afternoon. You may recall Sleepy Glenn, the football flash who played for West Virginia University. He was also a basketball star and showed up well against Charley Hyatt of Pitt. Sleepy was here Saturday scouting W. & J. for West Virginia and I've been wondering why they called him Sleepy. Anybody wide enough awake to attract a young lady as charming as the one he had with him is far from sleepy.

Attorney Fred A. Service, known to Tom Dickey and a few other of his friends here as "Dink" was one of the interested fans at the game. "Dink" is an old grad of W. & J. but his chief claim to fame comes from basketball.

Back in the days when Rube Waddell was burning up the sand lots of this district, his partner was Mr. Service who caught him. Rube put an extra pound of steam on the ball one afternoon and as a result bent one of Dink's fingers back. He still carries the souvenir in the shape of a twisted finger.

No need now to give the wife the excuse that you didn't know what time it was. The new clock in the tower of the First Christian church stands out like a lighthouse and the hands are plainly visible for a couple of squares.

This column owes an apology to First Lieutenant Paul A. Welsh. In the paragraph concerning Armistice Day not long ago, he was listed as a second lieutenant. Scandalous, as a second lieutenant, is like calling a judge of the supreme court "squire."

It's all right to call a general, "buddy" or an admiral "sailor", it's all right to call a colonel "mac", but never take any liberties with a lieutenant, first or second, or with a corporal.

This lad Tom Lambie, who used to be on the campus of Westminster College was a spectator at quite a colorful exercise over in Abyssinia when the young prince there was crowned king. Mr. Lambie occupies a peculiar position in that far off country. He is a missionary under the United Presbyterian church, but stands in the position of amicus curi or friend of the court. He has acted as intermediary between the crown there and the outside world.

Church Lights New Electric Clock On 75th Anniversary

Out into four directions the illuminating rays of the newly installed electric clock atop the First Christian church spire radiated for the first time Sunday night, telling correct time to hundreds along the downtown streets. It was the first time the mammoth timepiece has been lighted.

The mammoth four-face clock was illuminated just as the congregation, gathered within its beautifully renovated house of worship inside, was celebrating the 75th anniversary of the founding of the church.

The installation required several weeks' time and was carried out at an approximate cost of $5,000.

No More Work In Grant Street

Sidewalk Repairs, Asked By Owners, To Be Made In 1931

Council convened in the city building today and indicated that sidewalks which were left high on Grant street, would be repaired by the city next spring.

Recently council repaired several sidewalks but not all of them it is reported have been fixed.

Councilman Trever stated that the city had paid $685.00, to Woods & Golder for the work already done.

It has been reported to council that not all the sidewalks are laid in a straight line but have "waves."

Council however, indicated today that the shortage of funds would necessitate leaving the work until next year.

FIELD GOAL IN LAST MOMENTS OF PLAY GIVES ELLWOOD GAME

Tubers Win From Monaca 9-7 At Monaca On Saturday Afternoon

Frick's Drop-Kick Proves Winning Effort For Ellwood High

By TONY PASTA

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 3.—Only a timely and beautiful field goal kicked by Frisk enabled Ellwood City's high blue and white warriors to nose out a victory over Monaca on Saturday afternoon at the latter's field by the close score of 9 to 7. In the last three minutes of play the valley aggregation held the lead by a 7-6 standing, and after the Tubers had advanced the ball within scoring distance they failed to gain any ground with three plunges at the line, and on the last down Frisk drop-kicked the ball for almost 15 yards to score the field goal and the winning points.

It was an interesting battle, with both teams fighting hard, and the opponent started the fireworks by marching down the field for the first score in the opening session. During the second period the blue and white flashed a strong comeback, threatening to score, but it was not until the latter part of the third chapter that Welsh rushed in and blocked a punt and recovered for his mates with Condi carrying the ball over a few minutes later. He missed the try for the extra point when he tried to plunge the line.

Ellwood outplayed the enemy and registered 10 first downs, while the losers accounted for only four. Coach Ingle's machine started a strong march in the second period and collected five first downs and advanced the ball near the goal line, but lost it on downs when the valley crew tightened up. During the last period the Tubers were very aggressive and chalked up four first downs.

Frick and Condi enjoyed a big day, as they not only accounted for the markers, but also played a fine defensive game. This pair formed a pretty passing combination and both rammed the line very effectively. The former also tossed several long passes to Neff and one netted 26 yards, but was in vain, as the half ended after the oval was brought only 12 yards from the line as a result of this toss. On the other long Neff carried the ball over 20 yards, but it was called by the referee because of both teams being offside. Welsh also deserves plenty of credit for blocking a punt and paving the way for Ellwood's touchdown.

Calhoun and Alexander were the outstanding performers for the losers. The former was especially effective with his general field work. He scored the marker for the touchdown, and the extra point was also made by him by accepting a pass from Alexander. Cotter and Milne played a hard game on the line and were a continual menace to the Tubers, as they rushed in time after time to stop the blue and white men.

Game Is Started
Monaca kicked off and on the first play Ellwood attempted a pass, but it was batted down. Finding it hard to gain any ground, the locals punted and Monaca also did the same. After the Tubers kicked again after a futile line attack the opponent began a march down the field. Alexander and Calhoun picked up about seven yards and a five-yard penalty on Ellwood gave the enemy a first down. These two lads again carried the oval for a first down, and on the following play Calhoun carried the pigskin 18 yards for a touchdown. The extra point was made by a pass from Alexander to Calhoun. This was a poor quarter for the Ingle machine, as they seemed unable to check the attack.

Wilson accepted as Monaca kicked off again to Ellwood's 30-yard line. An exchange of punts followed with the first period coming to a close as Cunningham punted to Alexander on his own 49-yard line.

Schackern and Alexander, both moved the line for no gain as the second stanza of the fray went into action and the enemy was forced to give the ball up on downs. Frisk lost five on the first play and on the next move Carey intercepted a pass. Alexander and Scogna failed to gain any ground and a pass was batted down. Calhoun punted to Wilson, who accepted on the 15-yard line. Ellwood immediately kicked out of danger.

Alexander rammed the line for three yards, but on the following play the Monacans punted. Wilson picked up three yards and after a short loss failed Cunningham gained enough to make a five-yard pass to Neff. On a criss-cross play and Frisk hit the line twice to net four more yards. With only a yard to go for a first down Cunningham carried the oval to net more than enough to make a first.

The Ingle machine continued their running attack as Condi gained five and Frisk rammed the line three more times to net a first down. Another 10 yards was made with Cunningham. Frisk and Condi doing the work. Monaca then suffered a five-yard penalty, but Ellwood soon lost advantage of this break as they were also penalized five on the following play. Condi then picked up four and a pass failed to net any ground, so Frisk rammed the line but was stopped with a very short gain to give the opponent the pigskin after the blue and white had advanced it to the 12-yard line. Due to Monaca's strong and stubborn line the Tubers lost this opportunity to score.

Monaca immediately kicked out of danger, and on the next play Frisk tossed a long pass to Neff which netted almost 30 yards, and only a short distance from the scoring line. But this pretty piece of work was all in vain as the whistle blew for the half after the Tubers had advanced the ball within less than 15 yards of scoring distance in the second period of the fray.

At the opening of the second half Monaca kicked off to Ellwood's 37. On a criss-cross play Neff lost a yard. A bad pass from center resulted in a five-yard loss and forced the locals to punt. Calhoun fumbled the kick and Neff fell on the oval on Monaca's 45. Frisk picked up two yards and a pass from him to Condi was completed but was called back because of both elevens offside. Frisk and Condi both failed to gain and the blue and white kicked.

Schackern immediately punted and Ellwood lost the ball on downs, as they could not pierce the opponent's wall. On three plunges at the blue and white line Alexander and Calhoun were stopped, and when Monaca attempted to punt Welsh rushed in and blocked the kick and fell on the oval just a short distance from the goal line. This was a big break for Ellwood, as they could look advantage of it. The pigskin was less than 10 yards from the line and to make matters worse for the enemy they received a five-yard penalty and helped to bring the ball closer to the line. Condi picked up two by ramming the line and lacked only a yard to go over the line. On the next play he crossed the goal to score for the blue and white. He failed to make the extra point on a line buck.

Neff kicked off to Frisk, who accepted on his own 31-yard line. Alexander and Calhoun covered enough ground to make a first down. On the next move Alexander was thrown for a first down. Cunningham batted five and on the following play almost lost the oval as he recovered his own fumble. Monaca then received a five-yard penalty and Cunningham followed it by punting to the opponents' 22-yard line. Calhoun hit the line twice, but was stopped and he soon punted, with Ellwood accepting on the enemy's 35-yard line. A pass from Frisk to Cunningham was batted down. Wilson then broke through on an off-kick play to collect 15 yards. The crowd got another thrill as Frisk heaved the oval to Neff for a long gain, but the ball was called back because of both teams offside. This occurred three times during the contest and caused the Tubers to lose several opportunities to score.

Frick picked up nine and Ellwood got a first down as Monaca suffered a five-yard penalty. Cunningham hit the line for six yards and Condi kicked up three more. Cunningham then advanced the oval for a first down. Then the crisis came for the blue and white. Cunningham was stopped for a small gain and a bad pass forced the Tubers to recover with no gain. Condi hit the line and he was stopped as the opponent realized their danger and formed a concrete wall. With only a few minutes to play and the fourth down, and unable to pierce the Monaca line, Frisk stood back for a kick. He caught the ball and made a pretty drop-kick which cleared the bars with an easy grace to give Ellwood a field goal and enough points to take the lead. This play came as a surprise and stunned the opposing eleven for a moment. It was an unusual move and was not expected. Frisk certainly deserves much credit for bringing this bacon home, for it was won by this fine kick.

Ellwood kicked off to Monaca's 40. Calhoun tossed the oval to Schackern to net eight yards. Calhoun then lost one yard, but another toss by the same combination netted more than enough for a first down. Wilson knocked the oval down as Monaca attempted to give Ellwood a field goal. The opponent tossed the pigskin and received a five-yard penalty, as it was incomplete. Frisk accepted as the enemy punted. Ellwood soon kicked as they failed to gain any ground. The tilt came to a close after the losers accepted the punt and then tried a long pass.

Saturday's battle Ingle was forced to change his line-up due to the absence of Sheeler, who was hurt in last week's game. He is expected to be in shape for this coming tilt. Vandrell started in Cunningham's position at fullback, but played for only a short time. E. McKim started in Neff's place and Tumbin got a chance to see action for the first time this season as Nye hurt his ankle and was forced out of the contest.

This victory gave Ellwood its first win in the Beaver Valley League and kept Monaca in the cellar position, as they have yet to triumph this season over any eleven. With the battle tucked away safely the blue and white chalked up their third victory of the season and gave them much more confidence. They won a hard earned battle against Monaca and pulled the game out of the fire in a first-class fashion and in time to bring the bacon home.

On next Saturday the Tubers will play at home when they face the New Brighton aggregation. Will the Ingle machine be able to conquer this Beaver valley opponent? Although this crew has not won very many contests this season, they have been a continual menace to the teams in that district, as they have already tied with three of their opponents.

Ellwood seems to have formed a much stronger line plugging attack in Condi and Frisk. These two lads worked very good against Monaca and loom as the best ground gainers for the blue and white. Both hit the line low and hard and the latter is also a good passer.

Ellwood Indies Defeat Arnolds By Score 18-0

Grid Team Takes Third Straight Victory

(By TONY PASTA)
ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Nov. 3.—Ellwood City's Independents football team annexed their third consecutive victory of the season on Saturday afternoon at the Ewing Park field when they defeated the Arnold Independents by an 18-0 score. This strong aggregation from Arnold boasted of a fine year clean slate record.

Shortly after the opening period Altar fumbled and Sanders recovered the oval over the goal line to score the first touchdown. MacMurdo's kick for the extra point was blocked.
In the second period the locals crossed the line twice. The first score came when an Arnold man tipped the ball to stop a forward pass and Griffiths snatched it to run thirty yards for a touchdown. This time MacMurdo's kick was too wide and was not good. The second score during this period came when MacMurdo plunged it through the line after the oval had been advanced within the five yard line. Segedi tried a placement kick for the extra point but it was blocked.

During the last part of the final period the visitors threatened to score. A long pass brought the pigskin just four yards from the line. Ellwood then proved to be a long wall for the enemy rammed the line four times and were forced to lose the ball on downs as they lacked less than a yard of scoring.

Sketching Is Best Teacher

(This is another lesson in the national cartoon contest of Central Press.)

By JACK SORDS
Famous Newspaper Illustrator

The time for sending your cartoons to be judged in the national contest of Central Press and New Castle News for the best cartoon drawn by a grammar grade student is nearing. You have only a few more days to study drawing. Have you learned the fundamentals? Ask yourself that question.
Mr. Bishop, Mr. Robinson, Mr. Swanson and the others have given you valuable hints. Have you studied and followed them THOROUGHLY?

LY? And above all, have you PRACTICED diligently?

Remember, there is no better teacher than SKETCHING. Others have told you that, but here is the advice again.
Many of our famous comic artists are first-class draftsmen and painters. THEY learned by sketching. THEY did not become disheartened. THEY did not try to do difficult drawings from the start. That's why they became great successes.

If you have abandoned sketching, go back to it immediately. Make simple sketches like the one above but do them constantly. And strive for the right perspective.

W. & J. Downs Thiel 20 To 0 In Battle At Taggart Field Here

Smith And Rush Tally For Presidents In Early
Periods Of Game

Thiel Fights Gamely But
Fail To Threaten W. &
J. Goal—Small
Crowd

W. & J. defeated Thiel College football team here Saturday afternoon at Taggart Field, by a score of 20 to 0. It was not an impressive victory for the Presidents, but it did prove to some 500 fans that the Presidents have a punch. The Lutherans of Thiel battled gamely against the heavier Amos coached machine, but lacked the drive to get within the W. & J. ten-yard line at any time during the game.

Coach "Bill" Amos former All-American at W. & J. played a hunch here and instead of starting his shock troops as many believed he would, he sent his strongest team to the front-line trenches at the outset of the game, and for once the popular young coach struck it right. The shock troops got into the game later, but they didn't have the stuff it takes to score.

Smith Tatties
W. & J. got their touchdowns early in the game, and were content after that to merely coast along. The game was not very many minutes old when Maury Rush the Presidents' speedster slipped around the end on a reverse play and went 30 yards to the Thiel 10-yard line where he was forced out of bounds. Glenn Smith, former Wilkesburg High star on the line, and dashed for the first touchdown. Stew Wilson failed to kick the placement for another point.

Thiel took the kickoff following the first marker, but didn't have the ball long until Wardie punted to midfield and Low of Thiel downed the ball. W. & J. tried to slip over a few passes and tried to hit the line with Wilson and Rush carrying the ball, but they found a fighting Thiel team awaiting them and Wilson was forced to kick. Wilson's kick went to the one-yard line where Calabria cabbaged it. Thiel couldn't gain and Wardie kicked to Rush who fumbled and Calabria fumbled in mid-field. Calabria recovered on an 8-yard loss. Wardie was forced to kick and Rush came back 8 yards with the ball.

Smith turned left-end for 15 yards. Rush hammered his way through tackle for six more, and Wilson punted center for two more yards. Rush took a double pass from Smith and slipped through the Thiel team to the 5-yard line and a gallop that netted 32 yards. Smith was stopped colder than an Eskimo pie, and on the next play Rush went around end for the second W. & J. touchdown. Wilson kicked the extra-point.

13-0 First Quarter
The third quarter ended 13 to 0. Thiel had the ball on the 50 yard line at the start of the second quarter, but soon lost the ball on a punt and Wardie kicked to Armstrong who had replaced Rush. Shaffer picked up 4 yards, and Wilson slid through tackle for 20 yards. Wilson fumbled and Armstrong recovered for W. & J. with a loss of 8 yards. Wilson punted to Thiel on the 40-yard line.

Wardie tried a pass on the first play and Smith running gingerly through the Thiel team speared the pass and behind him interference raced for his second touchdown. Wilson kicked the extra-point. The scoring for the afternoon was over. The first-half ended with Thiel in possession of the ball on the W. & J. 45-yard line and Wardie had completed a pass to Clarke.

No Scoring Second Half
The third and fourth quarters were rather listless, with W. & J. taking the ball down the field several times only to lose it on downs to a righting Thiel eleven on the 10-yard line or just outside this mark. Thiel played a much better game the second half than they did the first, they fought better, but still they couldn't come anywhere near the W. & J. goal-line.

Labe Wardie, a former Washington High star playing at quarter for Thiel was the outstanding star for the Lutherans, it was the cool level headed Wardie who threw many completed passes to his ends and halfback mates and who ran with the ball like a deer, but never for any long gains. Calabria also looked good in the Thiel backfield. Myers was used very little as a ball carrier, but played a nice defensive game.

Lots of Subs
Both coaches used a flock of substitutes. Coach Amos used about every man he had with him. At one-time he had a complete new backfield in the game. This Armstrong boy, a former Washington High product is a speed merchant if there ever was one. Time and time again he dashed through the Thiel team, not for big gains, but substantial ones, and he was mighty hard to down. With Armstrong and Rush at the half-back posts and Shaffer or Smith calling signals, and Wilson at fullback the Presidents would have a whale of a backfield.

In the matter of first downs W. & J. had sixteen to Thiel's five. The Presidents threw thirteen passes and completed four of them. The Thiel team tried twelve passes and made good three of them. W. & J. drew 50 yards in penalties, and Thiel had but ten yards called against them.

Leonard Plays Well
It was a good game despite the lopsided count. Many of the fans in the stands were of the opinion that Coach Amos put the "lid" on the scoring after the third touchdown. The W. & J. team was coached by West Virginia, Bucknell and Carnegie Tech. The scouts learned a little however as Coach Amos, the fox that he is, had the boys using only straight football for the most part.

Captain Frank Leonard a New Castle boy played a fine game for Thiel on the line, as did Frampton, and Franks.

Westminster Defeats Juniata By 19-0 Score Saturday At Huntingdon Homecoming

Hamas And Michaels Score For Titans: Line Is Winning Factor

(Special To The News)
HUNTINGDON Pa., Nov. 3.—With the Westminster College line doing yeoman service, the Titans defeated Juniata College 19-0 here Saturday in the annual homecoming game of the Indians. The United Presbyterian forward wall, pounding the Juniata line from start to finish, made it possible for the Titan backs to gain consistently and to register 23 first downs to four by the Indians.

Westminster opened up with a vicious assault at the start of the contest and pushed the ball down the field to the Juniata five-yard mark where Hamas fumbled. This sustained march to the Indian goal was made through line thrusts with Hamas, Harper, and Michaels carrying the ball. A little later, Harley fumbled on the Juniata goal line and Petty recovered for the Indians.

Cebula, Titan left end, rushed Harley, partially blocked his punt and Michaels took the ball on the Juniata 15 yard line. Cebula made five, Michaels picked up two, and Shaffer added four and first down Hamas took the ball over on the next play from the four yard line. Shaffer's placement for extra point was blocked.

In the second period, after Harley had punted to the Titan 42 yard line, Ketterer, who replaced Harper, made six through the line. Then Tweedy took the ball on the end-around play and raced 52 yards through a broken field for a touchdown, but the play was called back and Westminster penalized five yards for off side. Michaels punted to the Juniata 20, the Indians made five in three tries, and the ball went to the Titan end of the field on Harley's punt.

But the Titans were unable to gain at this juncture and punted to Juniata. Petty picked up three. Andrews made 19 and first on the only substantial gain of the contest for Juniata. LaPorte made another. Harley threw a pass to Andrews which was dropped. Andrews tossed a pass to Petty for no gain and Harley punted out of bounds on the 23.

At this point the Titans unleashed another smashing drive down the field with the forward wall opening huge holes in the Juniata line. Cebula made four, Ketterer added five, Michaels made two and first, Ketterer made six, Michaels worked the spurs for 25 and first. Tweedy picked up one. Michaels added another. The ball was on the Juniata 38 yard line.

Shaffer passed to Cebula for 20 yards. Shaffer raced through the line for eight yards to place the ball on the Juniata 10 yard line. Shaffer picked up three more and first down. The were but 15 seconds to go until the end of the first half.

Westminster called time out. Shaffer made two on the first play, and the Titans lined up quickly as Hamas drove through from the five yard line for the second score. Shaffer's placement for extra point was wide.

At the start of the second half the Indians threatened to score when Harper fumbled on the Titan 25 and Reber recovered for Juniata. Andrews threw a pass to Petty for no gain. Then Captain Boone intercepted Harley's pass. Westminster took the ball on the field 17 yards on six plays, and Michaels punted to the Juniata 30. Here Kozicki tackled, recovered Andrews' fumble on the 25. Hamas and Michaels made nine in two tries as the third period ended.

Westminster took the ball on the Indian 24 as the fourth period opened. A lateral pass, Michaels to Harper, lost eight. Michaels went out of bounds, but the play was called back.

SORDS POINTS

Little, But—Oh, My!—That's Albie

It took three husky tacklers to stop him in the game with Westminster.

By JACK SORDS

Albie Booth, Yale's human "rain drop", is flowing on.

MANY UPSETS MARK GAMES ON SATURDAY

On one Saturday afternoon in every football season, Old Man Jinx, tired of the set-ups and the dark blue tales of coaches, proceeds to place a well intentioned kick against the exact center of the dope bucket and the resultant smear of hopes covers everything for miles around. Saturday afternoon was the old man's afternoon for his annual shenanigan and what he did to the carefully prepared brewing of dope is sad. Very sad if you want the entire truth, for some high hopes of college teams are training in the dust, miles behind.

Violents but not Shrinking
New York University, sometimes known as the Violets, proved to be anything but the shrinking variety. They were supposed to take a licking from Carnegie Tech, but someone misplaced the order, and the Tartans found themselves on the short end of a 20-7 score.

Pitt travelled to the great open spaces of Lincoln, Nebraska, and with more or less gusto tackled the giant Corn Huskers, who play for the University of Nebraska. The game seemed to be Paul Reider and 10 other fellows playing Nebraska, with neither side scoring.

Westminster showed further improvement in the autumn game by trouncing Huntingdon College 19-0, which is enough cause for the Blue and White adherents to start cheering. Allegheny, thought to be too light for Grove City snaked out a 6-0 win over the Grovers, while Thiel did the expected against W. & J., losing by a 20-0 score.

But about these upsets, sez you. Well, the Yale-Dartmouth game for example, Dartmouth was the one hope of the East for a possible consideration for national honors, unless you want to count Fordham. The smart boys who place a little piece of change on the weekly games were willing to spot you six points.

Bulldog a chance against Dartmouth but apparently forgot that the Army didn't kill Booth, they only hurt him. As a result, Dartmouth has a 0-0 tie on its escutcheon, which not even a cast iron alibi can wipe out.

Harvard Tied
Second on the list is the Harvard vs. Williams-Mary game. This was to be just a breather for the sons of old Harvard, but the breather turned out to be breath taking. Nobody has heard much of Williams-Mary in the football world this year, but they were good enough to hold the Crimson to a 13-13 tie. This probably means that Williams-Mary are off the Harvard schedule.

As for the Princeton-Chicago game, somebody was supposed to win but nobody could figure out who. Both teams had been taking it on the chin steadily, and perhaps the score 0-0 was just about right.

In the middle west, Ohio State was given a "tumble" against Wisconsin. Hadn't Wisconsin been moving 'em down this year? They had, but the mower went haywire against Ohio State and another 0-0 tie resulted. All of which seems to give Northwestern a triple riveted claim on some kind of a championship out there, although you'll have to forget the game they are going to play with Notre Dame. Northwestern took the big Minnesota team for a ride 27-6, and Purdue overwhelmed Illinois 25-6.

Fordham Wins Again
Fordham defeated West Virginia 18-2 which is nothing to get heated up about but does keep Fordham's sheet clean thus far. Army played tag with North Dakota 33-6, and Syracuse and Brown must have staged a game that had the fans limp for the score was 16-16, a rather unusual combination.

Jim Rugh's old team, the University of Pennsylvania played Kansas defeating them 21-6 and here comes another upset. Columbia against Cornell. Cornell was alleged to be an easy winner over Columbia. Battered and bruised from several bad beatings Columbia was thought to be just out for exercise. They took the exercise and the game 19-7.

BESSEMER DEFEATS HARRISVILLE 25 TO 0

Bessemer proved too fast and strong for Harrisville, Saturday, at Bessemer and chalked up a 25 to 0 victory, thus continuing in hot pursuit of the 1930 Class B school football championship. Before they can capture the title, however, they must stop Slippery Rock and Union high. Bessemer captured the title last held and has one leg on the championship cup. Should they be successful in beating Slippery Rock, next Saturday and Union high a week later they will be given permanent possession of the trophy. Bessemer did not get going until the second quarter Saturday when they chalked up a touchdown. In the third period two touchdowns were made. In the last period the fourth touchdown was made. The three attempts of four for the extra point failed. The Bessemer line on defense was a stone wall and on the offense paved holes for their speedy back field. Bessemer made 13 first downs to eight for Harrisville. Coach Fredericks used several substitutes in the last period to save his grid warriors for the Slippery Rock game this week.

Harrisville kicked off to Bessemer on their 25 yard line. Bessemer used straight football tactics and had the ball in scoring position but lost it on a fumble. Harrisville lost no time in punting out of danger. Bessemer worked the ball toward Harrisville and a second time lost a chance to score by a fumble. Harrisville, however, failing to gain, punted and when the period ended Bessemer had the ball.

Grist Runs Wild

When the second quarter opened Grist, captain and right halfback, carried the ball over the line for their first touchdown but the attempt for extra point failed. Bessemer kicked off to Harrisville on the 20 yard line and the Harrisville team advanced the ball 10 yards. Bessemer strengthened and Harrisville was forced to punt and the half ended, Bessemer 6, Harrisville 0.

Bessemer kicked to Harrisville and the latter tried to use forward passes which were incomplete. They were forced to punt and Bessemer's linemen tore holes in the line and made holes for the backs. End runs also helped Bessemer gain ground and Grist finally got away for a long end run which brought Bessemer the second touchdown. The attempt for point failed.

Substitutes Score
They continued to batter the line, smash off tackle and make wide end runs and Grist got away for another long run and touchdown and the quarter ended with Bessemer having 18 points and Harrisville 0. Coach Fredericks sent a crew of substitutes into the game in the final period and the second stringers held up like the regulars and on a plunge through center Fullback Stanley scored the fourth and last touchdown and Slavish who went in for Grist kicked the extra point boosting the score to 19 to 0. were Hilliard, Edwards and Gibson.

The lineup:
Bessemer 25. Harrisville 0.
McKee L. E. Gilbrath
DeCervo L. T. Monk
Simonsie L. G. Edwards

All-American Coaches

No. 14—Blue Howell

By JACK SORDS
Central Press Sports Cartoonist-Writer.

Two years ago the Nebraska Cornhuskers had a first-rate football team and one of the outstanding ball carriers of that outfit was Fullback Ed Howell—"Blue" Howell.

It was Coach Ernie Bear's last year at the helm of the Cornhusker machine and he turned out a cracking good eleven which lashed Iowa, State, Montana State, Syracuse, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Kansas Aggies into defeat, losing but one game, the clash with Army, and tying a fine Pittsburgh machine.

Outstanding on that fine Nebraska team was the great Clair Sloan halfback; Prucka, Broadstone, McBride, Witte and other Cornhusker luminaries, but it was Howell who was picked for the All-American team by the nation-wide Central Press football poll of football writers and fans.

Though he no longer plays the game, Howell has not left it. Today he is coaching the Pittsburg Teachers' school at Pittsburg, Kas., a member of the Central Kansas conference. Howell is rebuilding football at the school, and, though his job is a difficult one, brighter times now loom for Pittsburg.

Prefers Young Men For Big Jobs

(International News Service)
PARIS, Nov. 3.—French Premier Tardieu prefers young men for some of the big jobs in France. He himself is one of the youngest premiers the country has ever had, being only 54. In his recent appointments for the principal posts in the Bank of France, Monsieur Tardieu has shown a marked preference for under-fifty men. The new governor, M. Moret, is only 43, the first assistant governor is 38 and the second is 36. The newly-appointed general director of indirect taxes has just turned 30. Smooth faces with short and chic mustaches are replacing the venerable gray heads and long beards which have so long settled France's destiny.

LOCAL QUARTET WILL BROADCAST

Radio fans of this city will be interested to know that on Tuesday evening, November 4, between 8:30 and 9:00 o'clock the quartet of the First Presbyterian church will broadcast from Station WKBN Youngstown, O. The quartet is composed of Lillian Stambaugh, soprano; Mrs. James A. Rugh, Contralto; George McDonald, tenor; and Charles Richards, basso. Thomas Weber is the director and organist.

John Masfield asserts that poetry is an art, but it sure robs the industrial world of a good many persons who might have starred as bricklayers.—The Dayton Daily News.

DRAPING OF WINDOWS SHOULD BE CAREFULLY THOUGHT OUT FOR EFFECT

The matter of draping the windows of your home should be carefully thought out or even the loveliest material will be without effect. Inexpensive stuffs can be used for impressive window effects if their draping is planned with imagination and taste. At the left above green celanese moire is used to give an effect of height and width; center, graceful draping of inexpensive material applied to bathroom window; right, glazed chintz in royal blue with a double scalloped valance makes the bay window a delightful part of room. The glass curtains are of ruffled white swiss. These designs are chosen for Central Press by the Home and Field Magazine.

To Conquer Aviation

Mrs. Nina Vidal, daughter of former Senator Gore and wife of the vice-president of the Ludington Air Line, is now taking flying lessons at the Washington Airport, where she was pictured. "It won't be long now," says Mrs. Vidal, "before I will show these other women fliers how it is really done."

Quartette of Leading Football Scorers

These pictures explain why the stars of the football profession (pictured above) are the leading scorers in the country. They have been termed veritable locomotives when charging down the field towards their opponents' lines. They are Roberts, of Georgia; Macaluso, of Colgate; Baker, of North Western, and Duffield, of South California. (International Newswire)

Father Kills Self, After Child Dies

Grief Stricken Parent Goes To Garage And Fires Fatal Bullet

FRANKLIN, Pa., Nov. 3.—Overcome with grief a half-hour after the death of his baby son, Alvin Joseph Buczek, 37, Pacific street, stepped to the garage in the rear of his lot and shot himself through the head. An hour later he died in Franklin Hospital.

While the Buczek have two other children, Chester, 13, and Annabelle, 9, they were extremely fond of Alvin who became ill 10 days ago. The attending physician assured them the baby was making progress but Saturday evening they called in two other doctors, who described the child's condition as critical. Shortly before 9:30 Sunday morning the baby died, and Buczek, beside himself with grief hurriedly left the house taking with him a small calibre revolver. The widow is distraught.

Judgment Day will be an awful experience to those who never were appointed by a President and discussed by the Senate.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Stock Prices Lower At Today's Opening

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Most of the active stocks started the new week at lower price levels, but the early reactions of a point or less were easily recovered before the end of the first hour, and the general level of prices showed a slight advance over Saturday's close.

There were few important developments in the business world over the week-end, and traders were not inclined to commit themselves on either side of the market on the pre-holiday market, particularly with the National and State elections pending. Reports on employment conditions were encouraging, a number of the well-known industrial concerns announcing the return of thousands of workmen who had been laid off earlier in the year. United States Steel, American Can and other favorites moved within an extremely narrow price radius. Big Steel cost about a point at the start, rallied 1½, and eased off to 145½, on a level with Saturday's final price. American Can above 115 showed only a fractional gain. Utility stocks eased off a point at the opening, and recovered their lost ground. The stock tickers were practically at a stand-still in the second hour, and trading in all sections of the market the duller in a month or more. The Cotton market was steady, with a further gain of 70 cents a bale. Grain markets were firm and local commodity markets unchanged. Call money was in good supply at 2 per cent.
